Reds Retreat; USAF Replaces Air Commanders

Tanks in the west rumbled up to within shelling distance of Communist North Korea across the 38th parallel.

Bled by losses of 70,000 or more, the Reds ceased attacks everywhere and withdrew from the debacle of their second spring offensive. It had lasted only six days.

A field dispatch today from the U.S. Second Division sector—the point where the Reds had hit hardest—quoted dazed Red prisoners as saying they were amazed at how quickly the Allies struck back."

A U. S. Eighth Army spokesman said the Reds showed no sign they would stop at the 38th parallel, the old political boundary for North and South Korea.

In most sectors, the mountainous terrian was the chief obstacle of the U. N. advance.

American rocket-launching ships moved in close to the Communist east coast port of Wonsan last night and ripped loose with a stunning barrage of thousands of rockets.

Fires were still burning and spreading at midnight, a Navy report from the light cruiser Manchester said today.

Wonsan had been blasted by naval siege forces for three months but during the last week shore batteries fired back at Allied warcraft.

The battleship New Jersey and destroyer Brinkley Bass, hit earlier this week by shore fire, were back in action, bombarding Red positions on the east coast, a Far East naval summary said.

Washington (AP)—The Air Force last night announced the replacement of its two top commanders in the Far East.

Lt. Gen. George E. Stratemeyer, who was stricken with a heart attack in Tokyo last week, will be succeeded by Lt. Gen. O. P. Weyland as commander of the Far East Air Forces.

Maj. Gen. Frank F. Everest, assistant chief of staff for operations at Air Force headquarters, was named to succeed Lt. Gen. Earle E. Partridge as Fifth Air Force commander in Japan.

Announcing the reassignments, Gen. Hoyt S. Vandenberg, air chief of staff, said he and the whole Air Force "deeply regret the illness which has made it impossible for General Stratemeyer to continue in command of the Far East Air Forces.

Stratemeyer has held the key Far East command since April, 1949. Partridge has been in command of the Fifth Air Force in Japan since 1948.

The two new commanders will leave for Japan this weekend.

Both Stratemeyer and Partridge have appeared to side with some of the views advocated by Gen. Douglas MacArthur for stronger measures against Communist China, notably on bombing Red China.

Trade Bill Approved

Washington (AP)—The Senate last night passed a bill extending the reciprocal trade agreements program for two years until June 12, 1953.

The vote was 72 to 2, with only Senators Malone (R-Nev) and Dworshakk (R-Idaho) voting no.

The bill carries an economic weapon aimed at Russia and all other Communist countries. It directs the President to withdraw or suspend all tariff concessions which go to Communist nations under the trade pacts.

The measure now goes to conference with the House which passed a three-year extension bill.

Under the reciprocal trade legislation, first put on the statute books back in 1934, the President can cut tariffs in return for concessions from foreign nations. These cuts are embodied in trade agreements.

Gas Firm Slashes Tank Wagon Price

Philadelphia (AP)—The Sun Oil Co. yesterday reduced the posted tank wagon prices of gasoline one cent a gallon in 13 eastern states and the District of Columbia.

Areas affected include New England, New York, New Jersey, Delaware, Virginia, Florida, eastern Pennsylvania, eastern Maryland and the District of Columbia.

Globemaster Crash Kills Seven Airmen

New Lisbon, Ind.—(AP)—A Giant Air Force cargo plane with 12 men aboard crashed in flames yesterday, killing seven. Five injured men scrambled out, ripping off their fiery clothing.

The plane, a new type C-124, "Globemaster II" tried to make an emergency landing in a newly planted cornfield. It flicked the top of a pine tree, smashed into a huge beech, and flopped on its belly. A sheet of fire shot out and towered 100 feet high.

One of the five survivors who staggered out of the flaming wreckage was the pilot, Capt. John M. Christenson, 30, of Long Island, N.Y. He and four companions, badly hurt, were taken to a hospital at New Castle, five miles away.

A farmer, Jason Ziglar, 20, saw the huge plane circle his field, its four engines "vibrating so hard" that farmhouse windows were shattered.

The globemaster, built by Douglas, can carry 200 fully equipped troops or a payload of 50,000 pounds.

Living Cost Index Halts Upward Spiral

Washington (AP)—The government's cost-of-living index came to nearly a dead stop in its upward spiral yesterday for the first time since the outbreak of the Korean war last June 25.

Food prices were lower for the first time since Febraury, 1950.

However, the index had already risen enough since January to assure 1,000,000 auto workers a three-cent hourly wage boost. The increase is tied to rise-and-fall "escalator clauses" in the workers' contracts, based on the Federal cost-of-living barometer.

The latest index is based on prices as of April 15. The Bureau of Labor Statistics put out two sets of figures—one an "old style" set and the other a new style revised index, based on later buying habits.

The old style index showed that on April 15 Americans were paying 184.5 per cent of the 1935-39 average for their normal living costs—the same figure as on March 15. That is the index followed by the auto industry's contract.

The new-style index edged up to 184.6 or 0.1 per cent above the March 15 level.

Food prices dropped 0.2 per cent with the food index standing at 225.7 per cent of the 1935-39 average or 11.1 per cent above last June.

State Week Dates Set

Harrisburg, (AP)—Geared to celebrations on the local level, the 1951 Pennsylvania week will be held from October 15 through 21. Gov. John S. Fine yesterday appointed Commerce Secretary Andrew J. Sordoni to coordinate the celebration activities throughout the Commonwealth.

House Group Votes Hike In Income Taxes

Washington—(AP)—A bitterly divided House Ways and Means committee voted yesterday to increase everybody's income tax 12½ per cent and to slap $730,000,000 additional excess profits tax on corporations.

The committee's 10 Republican members, overridden in the voting by the 15 Democrats, angrily charged that the changes were "railroaded through" after the majority members reached an agreement at a secret caucus.

The flat 12½ per cent boost in individual income tax liabilities would be somewhat easier on smaller taxpayers than the committee's original plan, and correspondingly tougher on those with bigger incomes.

The original plan, adopted May 9 but now discarded, called for an increase of three percentage points in each income tax bracket. This figured out a 15 per cent increase for those in the lowest bracket and 3.4 per cent at the top.

That 3.4 per cent in the top income range, however, was on a much bigger proportion of total income than the 15 per cent in the bottom pay group.

For instance Capitol tax experts figured that present law provides an $120 tax bill for a married taxpayer with two dependents who has $3,000 left after allowable deductions but before personal exemption. That is an even 4 per cent of his net income. Under the May 9 plan the bill would go to $138 and under yesterday's change $135.

At $100,000 a year the experts figured the tax bill for the same man to be $51,912 under present law. That is more than half of the whole net income. The discarded 3 percentage point rise would carry that tax bill up to $54,840. Under yesterday's change the increase would be to $58,401.

The new formula, in general, gives a better break than the percentage point system to single persons with incomes below about $8,000 a year. It takes more from single persons above that level. For a married person the break point comes at about $15,000.

A single person with a net income of $3,000 now pays $488 income tax. Under the original Ways and Means proposal his tax would have gone up to $560. It would be $549 under yesterday's plan.

Comparable tax liability figures for a married man with two children and a $5,000 income before personal exemptions are $520, $598 and $585.

The ceiling on the amount of taxes the federal government can take from any individual would be raised by yesterday's action from 87 to 90 per cent of income.

The corporate tax ceiling — the total amount that can be collected from any one firm in the form of normal tax, surtax and excess profits tax—would go up from the current 62 per cent to 70 per cent.

Kerr Denounces 'MacArthuritis'

Denver, (AP)—Senator Kerr (D-Okla) said last night the Republicans are suffering from "MacArthuritis" and want to mire America down in a bloody, all-out war with Red China.

Kerr, first of the congressional critics of Gen. Douglas MacArthur, spoke at a western Democratic conference at which Secretary of Agriculture Brannan led a party chorus of hopeful expressions that President Truman will run again in 1952.

School Bill Passes

Harrisburg, (AP)—A bill authorizing the State to take over operation of financially distressed school districts in Pennsylvania was passed by the House yesterday. It went to the Senate.

Mother And Child Lose Lives; Two Others Critically Injured

ABC Merges With Movie Exhibitor

New York (AP)—A merger agreement was reached yesterday between th American Broadcasting Co., big radio-television network, and United Paramount Theatres, Inc., which operates some 600 motion picture theatres throughout the nation.

The merger will be achieved by an exchange of stock. The new company will be known as "American Broadcasting-Paramount Theatres, Inc." ABC stockholders will receive approximately $25,000,000 worth of stock in the merged firm.

The merger still is subject to approval by the boards of directors and stockholders of the two companies and also by the Federal Communications commission, which regulates radio and television broadcasting.

While the merger brings together television and motion picture interests, it does not necessarily presage a supply of late films for ABC since United Paramount does not produce motion pictures. However, as a major film exhibitor and also employer of intertainment talent for the stages of its theaters, it is in a position to strengthen ABC programming.

In their joint statement, Leonard H. Goldenson, president of United Paramount, and Edward J. Noble, board chairman of ABC, said:

"Complete daytime and nighttime programs on a scale and of a quality not previously practicable nor attainable are in prospect through the new company. New personalities and programs will be introduced to both radio and television."

Western Union Boost Blocked

Washington (AP)—The Federal Communications commission yesterday blocked temporarily a proposed general increase in Western Union's telegraph rates.

The increases, involving an average 10 per cent rise in general telegram service and a 15 per cent hike in telegraph press rates, were scheduled to become effective June 1.

The FCC ordered the company to leave present rates undisturbed at least until September 1, in order to give the commission time to investigate the reasonableness of the proposed changes.

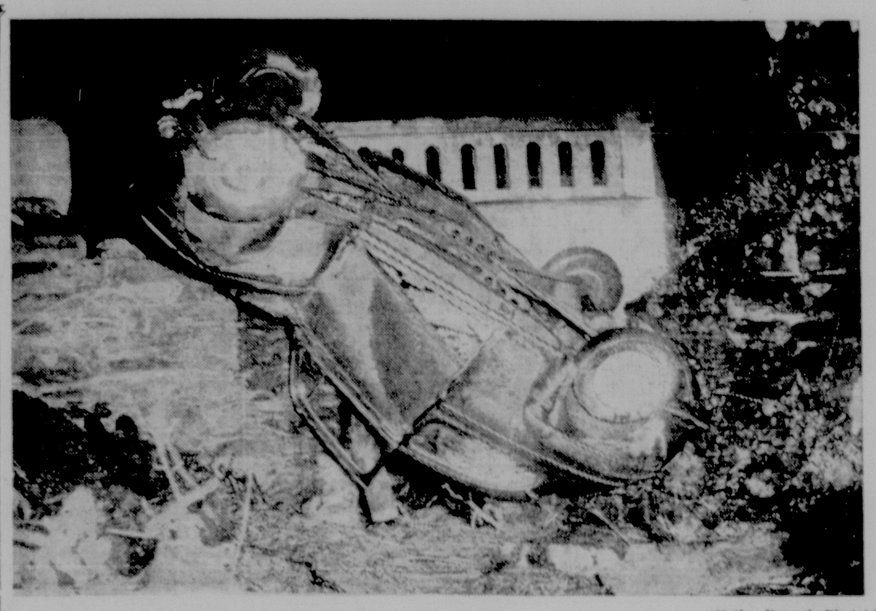

Public hearings on the matter were ordered to begin here June 25 before FCC Examiner Elizabeth C. Smith.

Churchmen Assail Mercy Killings

Cincinnati, (AP)—The General Council of the Presbyterian church in the USA yesterday expressed official opposition to a movement to legalize mercy killing.

Dr. Jesse H. Baird, San Francisco, council chairman, said the general assembly, which meets today will be asked to take action.

The assembly will be requested "to issue such a statement on the Presbyterian attitude toward this problem as will inform our church of the serious danger inherent in the movement.' '

ACCIDENT WHICH TOOK TWO LIVES NEAR PORTLAND—Two and one-half year old Jean Whiting was killed almost instantly and her mother, Mrs. Velma Whiting, 32, of Browns Mill, N.J., died later last night after the car shown above ran off the road near the approach to the Delaware Interstate bridge. The child's grandparents were seriously injured.

Brooks Urges U. S. Use New Atomic Shells

Washington, (AP)—Rep. Brooks (D-La) urged yesterday that atomic artillery shells be used by U. S. troops fighting the Chinese Communists in Korea.

He spoke as if use or non-use of such a weapon were only a matter of choice, though Army authorities have gone no further than an expression of confidence that it will be developed some day.

Use of the shells, Brooks told the House, would shorten the Korean war and "save the lives of thousands of our soldiers, sailors and airmen and will relieve the strain upon our people at home."

Brooks, second ranking Democrat on the House Armed Services committee, said recent test explosions have shown progress in development of the shells and the country should take advantage of this weapon.

House Okays FEPC Bill

Harrisburg—(AP)— A controversial bill setting up a fair employment practices commission in Pennsylvania passed the House yesterday by a lopsided margin—after a six-year fight.

The House approved the administration measure, banning discrimination in employment or union membership by a 160-38 vote.

A rousing two-hour debate preceded the roll call. All dissenters were Republicans. The bill went to the Senate.

House passage of the bill climaxed a six-year battle by FEPC advocates to obtain a vote on the controversial issue. It was kept bottled in committees in the House and Senate throughout the 1945, 1947 and 1949 sessions. The House Labor Relations committee, at this session approved the bill after Gov. John S. Fine prodded the group to action.

Wentzel Freed; Wife Greets Him

Philadelphia, (AP)—While his wife waited quietly outside in the rain, Gerald C. Wentzel walked through a prison gate to freedom yesterday after serving three years of a murder sentence.

The 41-year-old Pottstown, Pa., diemaker carried a suitcase, a suit and a package but he dropped all three as he ran, smiling, to his wife. They embraced, and kissed, each saying over and over: "Darling, Darling."

"I am happy and pleased that I have been vindicated," Wentzel said.

He had been convicted of second degree murder in the strangulation of Miriam Green, a Pottstown divorcee with whom Wentzel said he had been intimate. But he denied repeatedly he had killed her.

Iran Situation Critical

Moscow (AP)—Foreign diplomats here fear the Iranian situation is loaded with dynamite which could blow up world peace. Some observers are of the opinion there is a growing possibility Iran may turn to Soviet Russia for advice, if not aid, in operating the British-run oil resources she has nationalized.

Bradley Demands Safeguards In Event Of Truce In Korea

Washington, (AP)—Gen. Omar Bradley told senators yesterday South Korea would remain under constant threat of new Communist attacks if a peace settlement called for the withdrawal of United Nations forces without any safeguards.

The five-star general said cease-fire terms will have to contain "certain safeguards" against a renewal of Red aggression—and will involve more than just the withdrawal of Chinese and U. N. forces from Korea.

"The question of decision that is going to have to be reached," he said, "is whether that (withdrawal) is acceptable from all angles—political, military and so forth—and it is going to involve more than just the simple things, that we both withdraw.

"I think it is going to have to have certain other safeguards but it may boil down to a question of whether you accept that or nothing."

Bradley said from a military viewpoint a withdrawal by the Chinese-U. N. forces would leave the Communists "in a more advantageous position to renew the conflict."

Bradley gave these views to the Senate inquiry group studying the reasons behind the ouster of Gen. Douglas MacArthur.

Earlier, he declared that MacArthur's own field intelligence should have stopped the big Chinese Red build-up in North Korea last fall before it drove his Army into retreat.

With this testimony, Bradley openly challenged the MacArthur argument that this information was beyond the limits of his command and was the responsibility of higher intelligence in Washington.

But Bradey added that MacArthur could not be blamed if his field commanders did not give him the information "which could have been obtained by air reconnaissance and ground reconaissance'.'

Tax Bill Exempts Non-Residents

Harrisburg (AP)— A House committee surprised the administration yesterday by approving a bill exempting non-resident workers from paying local wage taxes.

Rep. Charles C. Smith, Republican House leader, promptly asked Chairman Howard F. Boorse (R-Montgomery) for re-consideration of the vote by the Municipal Corporations committee.

Boorse refused and the measure was later reported to the House from commitee. Smith said he act-

Acheson Ready To Negotiate With Chinese

Washington—(AP)—Secretary of State Acheson yesterday declared American readiness to negotiate with the Chinese Communists for a settlement of the war in Korea. But he said he knew of no overtures from the other side.

His declaration was made at his news conference in response to questions about a speech made by his chief subordinate for Far Eastern affairs, Assistant Secretary of State Dean Rusk.

Rusk had called the Red regime "a colonial Russian government." In a speech in New York Friday he also said the Chinese Nationalist government on Formosa represents the views of the Chinese people "more authentically" than does the Communist administration.

Rusk's speech has been widely interpreted as a change in United States policy toward China, barring Korean peace negotiations with the Reds and firmly attaching the United States to Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek on Formosa.

Federal Policy Group Opposes 44-Hour Week

Washington (AP) — The Manpower Policy committee has recommended against a 44-hour basic work week in industry during the emergency. The longer work week would mean no overtime, "premium" pay for workers until after 44 hours instead of 40 as at present.

Chairman Arthur S. Fleming announced the decision by the committee, composed of representatives from various Federal agencies.

However, this does not mean that the idea, suggested by several members of Congress, is dead. It will be considered on June 14 by the Labor-Management Manpower Policy committee, which advises Mobilization director Charles E. Wilson.

Car Strikes Tree, Plunges To Creekbed

Portland — A two and one-half year old girl was killed outright and her mother died later in Monroe County General hospital last night following an accident two miles south of here late yesterday.

The child's maternal grandparents were also seriously injured as the car, in which the four were riding, went out of control and lunged off Route 46 at the approach to the Delaware bridge.

The infant was pronounced dead on the scene by Dr. Eugene Rushin, Portland physician, but the other three persons were rushed to General hospital where the mother died at 9:30 p. m.

Chief of Police Jesse Felker, of Portland, identified the two victims as Mrs. Velma Whiting, 32, of Browns Mills, N. J., and her daughter, Jean.

He further identified the injured grandparents as Mrs. Marguerite Prior, 59, also of Browns Mills, and her husband, Lewis Prior, also 59. Their conditions were described as "fair" shortly before midnight.

When Mrs. Whiting, whose husband is reported to be serving with armed forces in Korea, died at the hospital, Justice of the Peace Marshall H. Neyhart, of East Stroudsburg, acted as deputy coroner and released the body to Horton funeral home in Portland and Johnsonville.

The body of the little girl had already been taken to the Johnsonville mortuary.

The age of the child was estimated at two and one-half years last night by Dr. Rushin and Clayton R. Horton, the funeral director, who acted as a Northampton county deputy coroner in the infant's death.

There was no other vehicle involved in the accident, which Chief Felker reported as occurring at 6.15 p.m.

The ill-fated machine was proceeding eastward on Route 46 (or Pennsylvania Route 987) toward the Interstate bridge when it suddenly careened off the highway, struck a tree on the right side of the road, spun to the left and rolled over the sidewall of the small bridge just west of the large bridge sign and the intersection of the dirt road leading to Tuscarora inn.

The car dropped 12 feet down into the mud of the shallow creekbed. Although it was raining at the time, there was no water in the small course.

Stephen DeKay, of Delaware, N. J., an Interstate bridge policeman on duty at the Pennsylvania end of the bridge, ran the short distance to the overturned car and pulled Mrs. Whiting, the baby and Mrs. Prior from the wrecked vehicle.

He said that Prior, who had been driving the light model sedan, was already out of the upsidedown vehicle when he reached the creekbed. DeKay later helped the elderly man up the steep bank to the roadside.

A call was placed for the General hospital ambulance and Chief Felker and Pfcs. Emil J. Weber and Stephen Sabin, of Stroudsburg State police, were notified.

As a crowd gathered at the bridge approach, it was also determined that a small poodle dog apparently the pet of the little girl, had also been killed in the crash.

DeKay said the dog had been in the rear of the two-door sedan with Mrs. Whiting and her daughter, Jean. Mrs. Prior had been riding with her husband in the front seat.

The baby was still cradled in the mother's arms when the woman was taken from the car. Both had suffered extensive injuries when thrown against the roof and sides of the rolling machine.

Mrs. Whiting suffered a fractured skull, internal hemorrhages, a back injury and a fracture and severe laceration of the left leg.

A rush call was sent to Wilkes-Barre Red Cross headquarters for blood to give Mrs. Whiting a transfusion. It arrived too late, however despite an escort by State police.

Police said Prior received internal chest injuries and lacerations of the chest and face. His wife, Marguerite, suffered shock and other possible injuries, although it was reported that she was less seriously hurt than the others.

As the Stroudsburg troopers stood by waiting for the shipment of blood to reach this area, State

DiSalle Spurns Chance To Win $8 Steak Dinner With Explanation He's Now Allergic To Meat

by ARTHUR EDSON

Washington— (AP) —Mike DiSalle got an offer of an $8 steak dinner yesterday. All he has to do is find one registered Republican working for the Office of Price Stabilization in Colorado.

However, DiSalle had in effect turned down the offer even before it was made. He said he's getting allergic to meat.

All this came up at a meeting of the House Agriculture committee. DiSalle, the nation's price boss, was there to explain a rollback he has ordered on meat cattle lovers all, don't like the prices.

Members of the committee, price rollback and said so, again and again and again.

Rep. August H. Andresen (R-Minn) at one point said, "Now you take the meat you buy—."

"I don't buy it generally," DiSalle said sadly, "I've developed an allergy to it lately."

A little later Andresen said:

"Now you said you didn't like meat....."

"I didn't say I didn't like it," DiSalle said. "There is something about meat that disturbs me the last couple of days."

Well, that seems plain enough. Man hears too much about meat, man decides he doesn't like it so much any more.

But Rep. Hill (R-Colo) apparently wasn't convinced.

Here Hill burst in with:

"If you used the political hacks, the ones you put in Colorado, why those figures are no good. They're all Democrats who have been beaten for office. I'll buy you an $8 steak dinner if you can find me one registered Republican."

Rep. Hoeven (R-Iowa): "Count Iowa in on that."

Rep. Lovre (R-SD): "And South Dakota."

"Well," began DiSalle.

"There's no need of you looking in Colorado," Hill said. "I've already looked. They are Democrats, every one of them."

Search For Slayer Shifts To Culvers Lake Section

Dingmans Ferry—The sparsely populated New Jersey area east of here was combed by authorities yesterday as a manhunt for a Hoboken dock murderer shifted to the Sussex county hills.

The search was concentrated yesterday in the area extending from Culvers Lake and Branchville to Layton and the section on the east side of the Delaware river opposite Dingmans Ferry.

The hunted man has been identified as 28-year-old Michael Murphy, who is wanted in the Monday killing of Nunzio Aluotto, 45, a North Bergen longshoreman. Aluotto was shot down as he stood in a dock area union office at Hoboken.

In the glove compartment of the getaway vehicle, said to be Murphy's, was a map marked to show a route from Hoboken to Culvers Lake.

INDIAN LOVE CALL

That MAN Curtis

T. Manning Curtis, a graduate of East Stroudsburg State Teachers College, became affiliated with Stroudsburg High school as coach and later athletic director around 1926.

Aside from his able qualifications and fine record as a coach, Curtis left his impact on hundreds of young men of this community to the extent that we and others who know of his works—as few people do, unfortunately—frequently refer to men he has touched with his great spirit as—"he was one of Cap's boys."

The reference is always to someone who has just made some outstanding achievement in some field of endeavor.

No further commentary is necessary on the man Curtis than that, except to express the sincere hope that he will continue, in some form or other, to be exposed to the youth of the community for good of the community.

Red Cross Birthday

The American Red Cross is 70 years old, with nearly 4,000 chapters in almost every county in the United States and with 1,650,000 volunteers aiding in its work.

When Clara Barton and her handful of volunteers organized the first chapter in May of 1881, they doubtless had no belief that from these small beginnings would grow the great institution which with the passing years of peace and war has performed such valuable services to persons in need.

It was in the very first year of the founding of the Red Cross that the initial disaster relief was accomplished, with shipments to victims of forest fires in Michigan, but since that time the Red Cross has aided millions of victims of domestic disaster at an expenditure of more than $150,000,000.

The Spanish-American War of 1898 saw the start of the services to the armed forces, when Clara Barton led a group of Red Cross nurses to Cuba, and in each succeeding war the great national organization has increased its help both at home and overseas.

Monroe County Chapter American Red Cross has been in the forefront of every type of Red Cross achievement in every crisis beginning with World War One. The local chapter now holds the finest record in Northeastern Pennsylvania in the Blood Donor program.

The work of the Red Cross grows ever more essential to the welfare of the nation, and it is comforting to observe the tireless and unselfish work of those countless men and women of every community dedicated to the success of the individual chapters.

First Step

The Interstate Commerce Commission having given its necessary approval, a 25 per cent increase of parcel post rates will become effective next Oct. 1.

It is a necessary increase, since this particular Post Office service is operating at a heavy loss. But so are other services, which contribute to the huge deficit, and only Congress can change the rates for them.

Congress should do that duty. And Congress should vote into prompt effect the Hoover Commission's recommendations for putting more efficiency into the Post Office Department and for taking politics out.

If automobiles had been invented 25 years earlier, it is a question if they could have developed enough power to move their massive engines, due to lack of proper alloy steel.

Try And Stop Me

By Bennett Cerf

Lillian Russell, when she was reigning star of the musical-comedy stage, was guest of honor at a banquet in London's Savoy Hotel. At her left was an honest-to-goodness Rhodesian chief, who soon gave every evidence of having succumbed to Miss Russell's charms. At the banquet's end he bowed almost to the floor and in the best, clipped, Oxfordian accent exclaimed, "Miss Russell, had Heaven only made you black and fat, you would be irresistible."

On the TV program "Who Said That?" Norman Thomas recalled a pungent quip of Bernard Shaw's that all the columnistic obits overlooked: "If it's true that the other planets are inhabited, then the earth must be their lunatic asylum."

On its way to the Kentucky Derby a spirited horse neighed to his companion, "I'm mighty tired of hearing how such and such a horse won a big race by a nose. If I find myself reaching the finish line first at Churchill Downs on Saturday, I'm going to turn around and BACK ACROSS."

Hollywood

By Gene Handsaker

Hollywood—Movie-capital correspondents, being human — despite what some stars may think—like some stars better than others. Top-favorite buy among a good many is unpretentious William Holden.

Not necessarily as an interviwee. Off the screen, Bill says and does litte that is sensational. His nearest approach to a hobby is his three kids' model plane whose motorized propeller chewed the tip of his finger the other day. When he burns the midnight oil, it's likely to be at a meeting of the Screen Actors Guild, of which he is first vice-president.

But Bill and his beautiful wife, Brenda Marshall, would fit easily into a gathering in any average home. Bill's bearing is a mixture of dignity, fun, and level-headed sense of accomplishment.

In his first picture, Barbara Stanwyck taught him to conserve energy. He was fretful. "If you knew the scene backward and forward," she told him one day, "you wouldn't be half as nervous." Holden says now: "She was right. I'd gone to a show the night before instead of studying my lines." His wife now cues him on his nightly script-studying. "When I say, 'That's enough,' she says, 'Let's go through it once more'—and we do." Brenda doesn't want to act any more, Bill said, unless they do a picture together. So far his employers haven't leaped at the idea of another husband-and-wife team.

Holden's unusual contract, shared by two studios, completes its second seven-year term next year. If he re-signs, he wants freedom to do "outside" pictures. He has bought screen rights to a western novel, "Signal Guns at Sun-Up", for independent production.

His present film, "Force of Arms," is his fourth with Nancy Olson. "Sunset Boulevard" brought Oscar nominations to both of them. They plan no more together for fear of being thought of as halves of a team.

Bill turned down "Dear Brat," sequel to "Dear Ruth" and "Dear Wife," both of which starred him. "I don't want to be a sequel actor," he says. What does he want? Just "a variety of roles" and "to keep working."

These Days -- By George E. Sokolsky

Sokolsky

The Wrong Road

Often we wonder how we got that way. For over 300 years Americans moved in one general direction and then they lost their way and now we are wondering what happened to us. We read the shameful Kefauver and Fulbright reports; we watch the unbelievable MacArthur investigation; we shudder at the kind of vulgar men who govern us—and we wonder at what turning we went wrong.

I have been re-reading an article by Father John C. Ford on "The Fundamentals of Holmes's Suristic Philosophy."

No man exercised a greater influence on the political thinking of the United States since John Marshall. Most of the young men whom we identify as the disciples of Justice Felix Frankfurter were really pupils of Oliver Wendell Holmes, whose intellectual capacity was not only tremendous but attractive.

Yet Oliver Wendell Holmes viewed the law more in the German rather than the Anglo-Saxon manner. He believed not in the sovereignty of the individual — who possess inalienable rights — but rather that sovereignty, vested in the state, gives to the state well-nigh unlimited powers over the individual. If the state can do anything, it can, from a practical standpoint, do no wrong. This is what Holmes said on this point:

"Sovereignty is a form of power, and the will of the sovereign is law because he has power to compel obedience or punish disobedience and for no other reason. The limits within which his will is law then, are those within which he has, or is believed to have power to compel or punish."

As Father Ford says:

"It is clear that in a system in which law and rights are based essentially on physical power the divorce between the legal order and the ethical or moral order is complete . . ."

And therein lie most of our troubles today, although we have a tendency to seek some tangible reason, such as that Dean Acheson is incompetent or Alger Hiss was a Russian agent. While such explanations may apply to these two men, they do not give us the clue to the general debacle in manners and morals. They do not explain the apathy of the people in the face of outrageous corruption.

We need to probe the problem more deeply and it must be in the realm of ideas, for a people are what they believe and they act as their assumptions permit them to. A people who believe in a moral system based upon natural law—that is, the revealed law of God—will act very differently from a people who believe this statement of Holmes:

". . . The law is full of phraseology drawn from morals, and by the mere force of language continually invites us to pass from one domain to the other without receiving it, as we are sure to do unless we have the boundary constantly before our minds. The law talks about right, and duties, and malice, and intent, and negligence, and so forth, and nothing is easier, or, I may say, more common in legal reasoning, than to take these words in their moral sense, at some stage of the argument and so to drop into fallacy. For instance, when we speak of the rights of man in a moral sense, we mean to mark the limits of interference with individual freedom which we think are prescribed by conscience, or by our ideal, however reached . . . manifestly, therefore nothing but confusion or thought can result from assuming that the rights of man in a moral sense are equally rights in the sense of the constitution and the law . . ."

And further he says:

". . . For my own part, I often doubt whether it would not be a gain if every word of moral significance could be banished from the law altogether, and other words adopted which should convey legal ideas uncolored by anything outside the law . . ."

When morality is banished from the law, all sense of right disappears as well. Precisely what difference is there between the concepts of Hitler and Stalin and those of Oliver Wendell Holmes? All three set so temporary an arrangement as the power of the government of the moment above all moral concepts—that is, against the entire experience of the human race.

And in this tone have many of our most important men been educated. The materialism of Karl Marx is not the only kind of materialism from which our generation suffers.

Washington Report

By Fulton Lewis Jr.

Washington — In 1946, when Communist armies in China were on their knees begging for mercy, Secretary of State Dean Acheson rushed up to Congress hollering for help. He wanted to arm, equip, and train ten Chinese Communist divisions.

In 1949 when Chiang Kai-Shek was driven to his knees, Acheson turned his back, something he wouldn't even do to Alger Hiss, who, as far as the record goes, never did do much in the way of fighting for this country.

It's all in the record, and it's not a very pretty picture. In 1946 the Communists in China had less than 50 trained divisions in the field. Chiang had over 300. Given a little moral support, American advice and a few dollars, Chiang's forces could have mopped up the Reds.

Communist leaders in China knew this. They hollered for help. Acheson and Gen. George C. Marshall heard them. Here is what Acheson told Congress in 1946:

"Communist leaders have asked and Gen. Marshall has agreed that their integration with other forces (Chiang's) be preceded by a brief period of United States training and by the supply of minimum quantities of equipment," to 10 Communist divisions.

Congress balked. So Acheson and Marshall got mad and proceeded to disarm Chiang's divisions, cut off military supplies and spread charges that the Nationalists were corrupt and useless.

Within three years Chiang's forces were reduced to virtual impotence. The State Department and Pentagon did nothing.

Congress, in 1949, forced the administration to take action. Acheson came back to Congress to appear before the Senate Foreign Relations committee. Chiang wanted funds, U. S. officers, and arms. Here is what Acheson said in part:

"To furnish solely military material and advice (to Chiang) would only prolong hostilities and the suffering of the Chinese people."

It's all in the Record, page 1053 of the State Department White Paper on China, issued in 1949. Naturally, Acheson's testimony on arming the 10 Chinese Communist divisions is omitted. It wouldn't prolong the suffering of the Chinese in 1946 to arm Communists, but it would in 1949 if we armed the Nationalists.

Just how slick can you get with the country's security? Acheson goes a long way in answering that question. In 1946, when Senator Karl Mundt, then a Representative, tried to pin Acheson's ears back with questions about how the Chinese Nationalists would react to our arming their Communist enemies, he got sassed by the Secretary of State and administration stooges in this fashion:

Mundt: "I wonder what would be the attitude of the State Department if Mexico or Argentia were to request of Russia a similar training mission to train, advise and equip its army on our own continent at this time?"

The late Rep. Sol Bloom, then chairman of the Foreign Affairs committee: "The chair is going to rule right now, Mr. Mundt, that all those questions are entirely out of order and have nothing to do with this legislation. Kindly confine yourselves to the legislation before us."

Mundt: "I am talking about the same type of program—precisely if this were reversed. If the Secretary (Acheson) does not desire to answer the question, I cannot make him do it, but I have given him a chance."

Acheson: "I think the chairman ruled the question out."

The Nationalists were in control of China at this time—with 300 divisions to the Communists' 50. Yet, Acheson implied that if we armed and trained ten Red divisions, Chiang wouldn't mind.

Here Acheson now, in 1949, when the situation was reversed, and the Reds were in control of China as a result of having abandoned Chiang:

"To aid Chiang would arouse in them (the Chinese people) deep resentment against the United States."

You have to slice this one up pretty thin to get what the Secretary of State is putting across in Congress.

In 1946 Acheson brushed off the thought that if we aided the Communists the Chinese people—that is, the Nationalist government—would get sore.

In 1949—when the Communists had control — when the Chinese people were dominated from Moscow—Acheson warned Congress that if we aided Chiang, the Reds would get sore. He played swing man on the word "people," and Congress let him get away with it. Chinese "people" in 1946 were Nationalists; in 1949 Communists—the same Communists now killing Americans in Korea. That made the big difference to Acheson—and he admits it right in the Record.

Marie Ault, the famed British actress who passed last week (at 80), was a young ingenue doing walk-ons when Oscar Wilde and Geo. Bernard Shaw were dominating the English Theatre.

She once was asked: "Can you remember any striking contrasts between Shaw and Wilde?"

"Oh, yes," she said. "When Mr. Shaw saw you in the street, he would wave his cap, and you were expected to wave your 'kerchief in return. With Mr. Wilde, you'd both be waving 'kerchiefs!"

Item: "Lower mental standards for Armed Forces."

Truman's statement that "Marshall was doing fine" (in the MacArthur probe) reminds us of the prizefight gag with the tag: "Well keep yer eye on the referee—because somebody's battin' the hell outta me!"

"Hey!" passionately writes Bob Dunn, "Does Mr. John, the milliner, know there's a plumber named Mr. Hatt?"

"The word 'alarmist'," writes Marguerite Higgins (in "War in Korea"), "has come into disrepute in America. I think it should come back into good standing. We need more alarmists."

You li'l ol' Skewpie Doll!

From the review of Lionel Barrymore's "We Barrymores" in the Sunday Times: "'. . . the same Mr. Barrymore who later concedes he made a very poor Macbeth and who wryly quotes Heywood Broun's classic line about that production—'Lay on Macduff, lay off McBride!'"

Not Broun, son. Women's Wear drama critic Kelcey Allen.

The boss commutes from his vast estate,

"Dear Walter," writes Meta Hoffman, "In the Gary Cooper rift story the United Press report (from Hollywood) used an early phrase of yours I haven't seen you use for 15 years—(That Way) — 'The story got around that Cooper and Patricia Neal were that way about each other.' Even if you are not here to stay, your reporting style apparently is."

The Love Letter of the Career: "Dear Mr. W.: The attached may interest you. It is a promotional ad down here in the New Orleans Times-Picayune States putting your proper name where it belongs in the American language. Note the caption—Martin Burke."

The Daily Mirror, King Features and the ABC network are stealing it, if you all don't mind.

Geoffrey Bocca in London's John Bull: "Among the millions of Sir Gladwyn Jebb fans in the U. S. were one extra special couple, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Winchell. One day America's No. 1 columnist spotted the six foot two Jebb striding down 5th Avenue and introduced himself. 'We had a very pleasant chat,' Jebb said, 'I asked him to have lunch with me sometime.'

"This meeting of the British diplomat and the frequently anti-British Winchell amused Jebb. The incident annoyed the Daily Mail's columnist, who reminded Sir Gladwyn that the American once said of Bevin (Jebb's chief): 'Bevin's operation was a failure. He recovered!' The two have never gotten together for lunch."

Looking at Life

By Erich Brandeis

Brandeis

It is a beautiful morning as I write this.

The sun is shining. The sky is blue. The birds are singing. The wistaria is just starting to bloom outside my window.

A little farther away I see the white and purple lilac, and the dogwood, in all their glory.

It is the kind of day that makes you glad you are alive and thank God for having given you so much to enjoy.

But alongside of me lie my morning newspapers with which I have just finished.

In them is gloom.

But none of that gloom is God-made. It is all man-made.

Men attended banquets last night and meetings during the day.

At these affairs they spread gloom and fear and dire forebodings.

A Senator said that unless we did what he sponsored, the world would soon come to an end. A cabinet member predicted the destruction of all civilization unless we did just the opposite of what the Senator suggested.

Everybody who spoke had something to say about what is WRONG.

Nobody had anything to say about the thousands of things that are RIGHT.

You need go no farther than the first chapter of the Bible to see that God created everything else before He created MAN.

He DID create man not just to enjoy all those other things but also to be their caretaker, their guardian, their preserver.

Yet even without MAN the Universe would still be here. There would still be trees and flowers, mountains and seas, the sun, the moon, the stars.

If we could only learn the relative importance of ourselves in the whole scheme of the world.

If we could only see ourselves as we must look to God, Whom we picture in His heaven, looking down upon us billions of human pin-points, making an unholy mess of His wonderful creation!

Yesterday I browsed around in Samuel Pepys' Diary, written away back around 1660.

He describes a dinner as follows:

"We had a fricassee of rabbits and chickens, a leg of mutton boiled, three carps in a dish, a great dish of a side of lamb, a dish of roasted pigeons, a dish of four lobsters, three tarts, a lamprey pie, a dish of anchovies, a good wine of several sorts, and all things mighty noble and to my great content."

But here is another entry:

"About the middle of the night I was very ill—I think with eating and drinking too much—and so I was forced to call my wife. But in the morning I was pretty well, only got cold, and so had pain . . ."

Whenever Samuel Pepys had committed misdemeanors against nature, he became very pessimistic and thought the world was coming to an end. But then he took some medicine and felt better.

The Once Over

The Missing Conversation

Why all the Washington fuss over whether either General Bradley or President Truman should reveal the exact conversation between the chiefs of Staff and the President on the recall of General MacArthur? Elmer Twitchell, the famous conversation scout and confab sleuth, has a transcript of the historic meeting. It follows:

President: — Well, gentlemen, who is running this Korean matter, MacArthur or us?

Bradley—That's the $64 question, sir.

President—And this is the time we go for the jackpot. Am I right? Omar, put down that pen. That new magazine series can wait.

Bradley—That isn't what the editor says. Now let's see, what were we discussing?

President—I can't tell you without the President's permission. Oh, no . . . that's my mistake . . . I AM the President! . . . We were discussing MacArthur. He's got to go.

Bradley—I know it, sir.

President—How do you know it? There must be a leak here somewhere.

Bradley—You just told us, didn't he, George?

Marshall—I don't like to trust my memory on that but I think it is correct.

President—Dean, what do you think?

Acheson—I get one satisfaction out of this: no matter what happens in this case it can't be blamed on me ALONE!

President—George, don't go to sleep on me like this!

Marshall—I am not asleep, to the best of my knowledge, although I would want to check to be sure.

President—I wish you wouldn't crack peanuts with your teeth while I am talking, Omar.

Bradley—Napoleon, Wellington, Hannibal, Lee and Grant, if I am not mistaken, cracked nuts with their teeth and in a classic battle.

President—This is no battle.

Bradley—If it isn't I'm a poor judge of trouble.

Marshall — They're bombing Pearl Harbor.

President — Snap out of it! That was ten years ago.

Marshall—I would want to check on that.

President—Let's get to the point. We have got to fire MacArthur, pipe and all.

Bradley—I hate to do this to Doug. He's a good general, TOO!

Acheson—MacArthur has been a very excellent general, in and out of season.

President—This is his OUT season!

Marshall—Would you repeat the question?

President (answering phone)—No, dont' send it here. (To staff) Somebody just sent me another piano. That's one more proof of the injustices around here. MacArthur gets headlines and I get pianos!

Acheson—I wonder if we could pin the piano situation on Douglas.

Marshall—They're both agrarians, or so it was said at the time and . . .

President — Time's awastin', Let's make this fast. I move that MacArthur be given the heave-ho. So voted! Now let's rush out the notification to the general fast, in case the news gets out.

Bradley—Nobody knows about this but us. How could it get out?

President—Don't be naive!

Since the President revealed he had been thinking of firing MacArthur for almost a year, palmists and tea-leaf readers are doing a big business in Washington official circles.

A Kansas City motorman of Harry Truman's younger days visited him at Blair House the other day, and the Republicans are saying that it was a discussion on what to do when the trolley flies off.

State Highway Department To Install Radio-Phone System

Station To Be Installed On Day St.

A high frequency radio-telephone communications system is being installed on a state-wide basis by Pennsylvania Department of Highways with fixed stations established in the Monroe county and other county maintenance superintendents' offices.

Arthur Dinstel, maintenance superintendent in Monroe county, said the 150-watt system fixed station will be installed in the existing highway office building, Day St., East Stroudsburg, until the new highway building is completed along Route 611, near Wigwam Park.

By a system of relays it will be possible for any of these stations to reach any other in the State.

Mobile units will be installed in the equipment operated by each county superintendent, assistant county superintendent and garage foreman. In addition, mobile transmitters and receivers have been installed in automobiles of the district engineer and district mechanic in each of the 11 districts into which the State is divided.

Standard operating procedure has been established, a phonetic alphabet set up, codes arranged to assure accurate and rapid transmission of messages.

Each operator of the equipment now being installed is licensed by the Federal Government.

Thus the men throughout the State who are charged with the maintenance of highways — clear them of snow and ice, cope with slides and floods, and establish emergency traffic routings—will be able to summon help from adjoining counties, their district headquarters or central headquarters in Harrisburg in the event of a major disaster.

The system will also permit swift communications of equipment within the county maintenance units.

Initial installation here is also expected to include at least one truck with probable expansion to other truck equipment.

The network is under the immediate direction of N. A. Staples, chief engineer in charge of maintenance with headquarters in Harrisburg. The equipment has been leased from the Bell Telephone Co. and Raymond Rosen Co.

Highway officials expect the equipment will be used only for emergency communications during snow and ice storms, floods or other disasters.

Principal use, on the basis of experience during the experimental stage, will be probably for the transfer of snow plow equipment to points of greatest need.

The entire network, which operates on a frequency modulated wave of 47.30 under general call letters KGB with numerals added to designate the different stations, will be on 24-hour daily year-round duty.

THE SMILES DON'T MATCH the mournful solitude of these white tombstones, but then these seniors will graduate from Chestnuthill Township High school just once. They're pictured here making a little whoopee during class night. The cemetery scene was to help seniors telescope themselves 100 years into the future so they could look back on their school days of 1951. From left to right are William Buskirk, Leah Dorshimer, Glendora Brong, Edward Lockhart, Clarence McNeal, June Stout, Mary Frable, Gladys Howell, Walter Serfass.

Nine Seniors Graduate At Chestnuthill

Brodheadsville — Approximately 400 persons last night braved a steady downpour to attend Chestnuthill Township High school's 34th annual commencement exercies.

Those receiving diplomas from Ervin Kreger, vice president of the board of education, were Leah M. Dorshimer, class president; Glendora M. Brong, vice president; Mary E. Frable, secretary; Gladys R. Howell, treasurer.

Other graduates are William J. Buskirk, Edward C. Lockhart, Clarence J. McNeal, Walter A. Serfass and June A. Stout.

Commencement speaker was Dr. LeRoy J. Koehler who advocated a new type of world control and an extension of the United Nations principle.

Gladys Howell, salutatorian discussed "Our World Today."

Walter H. Sebring, assistant county superintendent of schools, congratulated graduates on behalf of the county office. Seniors were presented for graduation by Supervising Principal John G. Mills.

Other student speakers were Mary Frable, Glendora Brong, June Stout.

Miss Frable's topic was "To Live in Human Dignity. Miss Brong discussed "Toward World Unity" and Miss Stout "Peace With Freedom."

Two Organizations Draft Details For Outing Of Junior Sportsmen's Group

Meeting last night at the Indian Queen hotel, the Monroe County Sportsmen's association arranged for the annual outing of the Junior Sportsmen's organization, which will be featured at Snow Hill on Sunday afternoon. Members of the Stroudsburg Lions club, cooperating in the event, sat in on the deliberations.

The two organizations will take the boys to the Snow Hill State forest reserve, where a pioneer picnic will be held. Refreshments provided by the clubs will include hot dogs, rolls, soft drinks and ice cream. Members of the sports men's association will provide charcoal stoves for roasting the dogs.

All boys of this area who are 16 cream. Members of the sportsmen and all are invited to register by Saturday at any of the following places: Tom DeVivo's shoe shop, Main St.; MacNichols' Sport store, Sixth St.; Nauman's Sports Goods store, McConnell's Taxi office, or Cincotta's market, East Stroudsburg or the YMCA. Registration is needed to guide the committee in their plans, but non-registration will not bar any boy from participating.

Fishing will be a feature of the day and the two clubs will provide valuable first prizes, while members of the sportsmen's group will donate many more.

The start will be made from the YMCA in Stroudsburg and the Lackawanna station in East Stroudsburg at 12:30, cars for transportation being provided by members of the two clubs.

Each boy is required to bring his fishing rod and bait.

Return will be about 7 p. m. Sunday.

Two Killed, Two Injured At Portland

troopers from the Bethlehem barracks moved in to take over the investigation, the fatality having occurred in Northampton county.

Chief Felker, who continued his work on the case, was able to talk with Prior, the driver.

Felker said Prior told him the party was returning to New Jersey when he noticed that the steering apparatus had become loose. He said he was experiencing some difficulty in steering as he approached the bridge.

When they were near the bridge sign, however, the car suddenly swung toward the center of the highway, then lurched back to the right. Out of control, it then smashed into the tree and swung off into the deep ditch.

Salem Church To Observe Anniversary

Gilbert—Salem Evangelical and Reformed church here is planning to observe the first anniversary of the ground-breaking for a new church building on Sunday, June 10 at 3 p. m. E. H. Wyckoff, promiennt Stroudsburg citizen and outstanding churchman, will be one of the speakers.

The multi-colored native stone walls of the building are rising steadily and are well up around the windows and doors. The builder, Allen Davidson is confident that under normal working conditions the roof will be on the structure by fall.

Hundreds of visitors have already come to see the beautiful colonial church building now under construction. Many more are anticipated on Sunday, June 10 at 3 p. m. when a period will be set aside for the inspection of the building under the direction of the building committee, consisting of Alvin Dreisbach, Gordon Souders, Elmer Kreger, Earl Murphy, and Walter Anglemyer.

The building fund likewise has been growing steadily. Recent large gifts have swelled the total of cash and pledges in the fund to approximately $32,000. A cash gift of $3,000 from Mr. and Mrs. Charles Christman of Pittsburgh, and the $2,000 gift from the East Pennsylvania Synod of the Evangelical and Reformed church have spurted the totals to this present mark. Mr. Christman is a former resident of the West End.

County Infantile Paralysis Foundation Pays Hospital $4,300 For Treating Miss Hendricks

A check for $4,300 was issued this week by Monroe County chapter, National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, to St. Luke's hospital, Bethlehem, covering payment for treatments which not only saved the life of Miss Mary Hendricks, Stroudsburg, but has started her on the long, slow and painful road to rehabilitation.

Miss Hendricks, whose great courage has been a tremendous contribution toward efforts to save her life and rehabilitate her, was a victim of bulbar infantile paralysis, one of the most serious forms of polio.

A patient in the hospital since mid-1949, Miss Hendricks has now reached the stage where she requires special treatment.

Next Tuesday, a delegation from Stroudsburg Aerie, No. 1106, Fraternal Order of Eagles, originators of a wheel-chair and rehabilitation fund for Miss Hendricks, will go to the hospital to present a special wheelchair to Miss Hendricks.

Balance of the monies collected in the wheel-chair fund drive will be turned over to the local chapter to help pay expenses connected with further treatments for Miss Hendricks.

Local chapter members and officials have decided they will meet the needs for further treatment and send Miss Hendricks to the famous National foundation special treatment and rehabilitation center at Warm Springs, Ga., early in June.

It is estimated that cost of this required treatment will run around $15 a day. The local chapter, however, expects some aid from National foundation which is also financed by March of Dimes contributions.

Walter Schlough is president of the local chapter. Mrs. Roger Dunning is secretary and Gerald M. Anderson, treasurer, J. A. Groner is campaign chairman, Harry B. Howell, East Stroudsburg, chapter member and Robert Jones, State representative here to confer on the Hendricks case, met with the group.

There are about 300 million cubic miles of water in the seas, it is estimated.

The diameter of the earth through the poles is about 7,900 miles.

X-Ray Unit To Visit Five More Industries Today; 7,000 Examined To Date

Free chest X-rays rolled over the 7,000 mark yesterday when Pennsylvania Department of Health mobile unit technicians X-rayed 387 more industrial workers.

Five more industrial operations in the Stroudsburgs will be covered today by the mobile unit brought here under co-sponsorship of Monroe County Medical society with the cooperation of the Monroe County Tuberculosis society.

Mrs. Estelle Fleming, executive secretary of TB society said last night that 387 persons from Bell Telephone Co., Line Material, Brookdale mill, Stroudsburg Septic Tank, Vassar Bag and Stroudsburg Ice & Cold Storage Co. were X-rayed yesterday.

Last night the reading of X-rays taken throughout the county a week ago and those started this week began. Dr. Horace Butler, radiologist at General Hospital, East Stroudsburg, started the work. Readings with the assistance of others will continue. Reports will be made in all instances to the family physician of all persons X-rayed.

All follow-up work will be done by the TB society.

Saturday the mobile unit will again be situated in Stroudsburg to X-ray all people who were unable to contact the unit on visits to various sections of the county.

Today the unit will X-ray employes of National Drug Co., Swiftwater; Hughes Printing Co., and Friday the unit will cover employes of Keiper's Laundry, Holland Manufacturing and Empire Box.

Joint Ownership Is Not A Substitute For A Will!

The Joint Ownership of bank accounts is a widely used and generally accepted arrangement for the Joint Ownership of all their property by a husband and wife. They put everything in joint names—stocks, bonds, real estate, automobile, etc. In the absence of a WILL such an arrangement CAN bring about some very unhappy results.

Take the case of "Mr. and Mrs. John Doe, Either or Survivor." Mr. Doe and their only child were killed instantly in an automobile accident. Mrs. Doe died on the way to the hospital. For 30 minutes Mrs. Doe was the SURVIVOR and sole owner of all their jointly owned property. When she died on the way to the hospital the widow Doe's estate went to her heirs-at-law: two brothers each got half. Mr. Doe's sisters and a brother got nothing.

If Mr. Doe had made a WILL, he could have provided for the disposition of the property under such circumstances and avoided such an unjust distribution of it. THERE IS NO SUBSTITUTE FOR A WILL. BOTH HUSBAND AND WIFE SHOULD HAVE ONE.

Let us help you plan the financial aspects of your estate and then have your Attorney draw a properly written WILL for you.

V.F.W. Poppy Days - Friday and Saturday, May 25th and 26th

BUDDY POPPIES SYMBOL OF A NATION'S DEVOTION

Emblem of the dead and dying on the fields of Flanders in 1918, the V.F.W. Buddy Poppy has been glorified by the American people as their "Flower of Remembrance."

Down through the years, ever since 1922 to be exact, the V.F.W. Buddy Poppy has given to all patriotic citizens—rich and poor alike—their chance to honor the dead by helping the living.

The annual sale of Buddy Poppies serves two great purposes. It fosters the beautiful custom of wearing these little flowers, once each year, in mute salute to the memory of America's honored dead; it provides the funds that are required to serve the daily personal needs of the nation's disabled and needy veterans, and their dependents.

There are millions of unfortunate veterans—as well as widows and orphans and dependent parents —who are unable to qualify for government aid.

Why? Mainly because the government itself—in time of war—has never been able to maintain accurate records on the physical welfare of each individual in uniform.

Through no fault of their own, these veterans—many of them the victims of the lingering effects of exposure, shock and malnutrition—are unable to qualify for help from their government because their service records fail to confirm the origin of their ailments.

Your support of the annual sale of Buddy Poppies makes it possible for the Veterans of Foreign Wars to maintain its great, nationwide program of free rehabilitation service to the millions of needy veterans.

Every dime or dollar which you may give in exchange for a Buddy Poppy goes into a special sacred fund—one that will be spent for nothing but the relief and rehabilitation of America's disabled veterans, and their needy loved ones.

Remember the dead who are buried near the battlefields where they died, or in our cemeteries here at home. Let's do them honor by helping the living!

For the aid, relief and comfort of disabled and needy veterans, their dependents, or their widows and orphans.

For hospital entertainment, for needy veterans and service patients.

For rehabilitation, welfare and service work, including liaison service with the Veterans Administration.

For maintenance or expansion of the V.F.W. National Home for widows and orphans of veterans at Eaton Rapids, Mich.

For acquisition, improvement and maintenance of burial plots and the decoration of graves of veterans and servicemen.

For necessary expenses for military funerals of deceased veterans.

Just Between Us

—By Bobby Westbrook

The tumult and the shouting of the Lions state convention dies, and that's not a soprano echo you hear from Pocono Manor today —that's the state convention of the League of Women Voters discussing their programs for the next two years.

You know, when you're involved in one of these conventions, they practically constitute your whole world, but to the public at large it merely means that the merchants take down "Welcome Knights of Malta" for "Welcome Lions,' and pretty soon it will be "Welcome Exchangites."

The weary mothers, up to their ears in plans for class night dresses, graduation presents, that class oration and having those white ballet slippers dyed, barely notice as they go desperately shopping from store to store.

The Junior High grads aren't much better, particularly in the consolidated schools where the fateful "Penn-Co" tests have arrived dripping with seals that can't be opened until Friday.

The clubwomen, having a chance to take off their girdles and best shoes for the first time in weeks, are busy deciding just how much of that delayed spring cleaning they can let go until fall.

And the politicians busy with their placards and visiting cards and campaigning haven't an ear to spare. However, we could maybe mutter a little "Welcome, Women Voters," which they certainly are.

Pocono Legion Auxiliary Adopts Three Projects

Mount Pocono — Mrs. Emma Merwin served as hostess recently for the regular monthly meeting of the Auxiliary of Pocono's Memorial Post 903 of the American legion which was held at the Merwin home on Sterling Rd.

Mrs. Eva Taylor presided during the business session when plans were made for a bake sale to be held on June 30. Emma Merwin, Estelle Sutton, Anna Sables, Mayme Cruse and Yvonne Regan were named as the committee for the bake sale.

Reports were given by Helen Platt on the recent card party held at Pocono Haven and by Mrs. Taylor and Mrs. Cruse on their attendance at the 4-county council held at Wind Gap.

Among the service projects the auxiliary voted to assume included; the sending of gifts to girls at Oteen Hospital; making of children's clothes to be sent to the child welfare committee at headquarters; and the sending of candy, cards and cookies to Fritz Kraft, a former local young man who is a patient at the Valley Forge Veteran's Hospital.

Miss Esther Foley was appointed as chairman of the poppy sales which takes place annually.

As a community service, the auxiliary will be in charge of appropriately decorating the Veteran's Memorial on the school grounds for Memorial Day.

Refreshments were served by the hostess, following the meeting.

Ex-Prohibition Candidate Is Speaker Here

Claude A. Watson, attorney-at-law, past president of the Highland Park, Los Angeles, Cal., Kiwanis club, was guest speaker at the meeting of the Stroudsburg club at the Penn-Stroud hotel yesterday afternoon.

Rev. Francis C. Thomas, program chairman, also gave the invocation. Dale H. Learn presented the speaker.

Mr. Watson was the Prohibition party candidate for vice president in 1936 and the presidential candidate in 1944 and 1948. He is a licensed minister in the Free Methodist church. His son is president of the Los Angeles club this year.

His talk on the subject, "Crackpots", was interspersed with much humor and a down-to-earth philosophy based on faith in God and choosing righteous men for public offices.

William H. Clark reported team No. 10 was adjudged winner of the 100 per cent April attendance contest and would be served a free meal at the expense of one of losing teams.

Regrets were expressed at the transfer of Rev. Thomas to West Chester. The clergyman told of his appreciation of the genuine fellowship he had enjoyed as a member of the local club.

Alan W. Keiper reported that 25 subscribers had been secured for the electric map project with numerous prospects to be contacted. The map will be fastened to the Seventh St. side of the Stroudsburg Security Trust Co., building and it is hoped to have it fully installed by June 15.

By pushing an electric button the route is traced immediately on the map to the point the person operating the mechanism desires. These maps are in operation across the country and some local people have had personal experiences with them and tell how well they work.

Next week's meeting date falls on Memorial day and in consequence the session will be held at the usual time, but on Tuesday, May 29.

Curtis To Be Honored At Banquet Tonight

Navy Coach To Speak At VFW Post

T. Manning "Cap" Curtis, outstanding coach at Stroudsburg High school for the past 21 years, will be honored by past and present athletes alike tonight during a testimonial dinner at the Veterans of Foreign Wars home, beginning at 6:30. Curtis, who has devoted virtually all his time to basketball in recent years, will remain as athletic director at the W. Main St. school.

An outstanding program has been arranged for the affair which is expected to attract some 150 guests, including 36 lettermen at Stroudsburg High.

Ben Carnevale, outstanding basketball coach at the United States Naval Academy, will be the featured speaker at tonight's affair, while Frank P. Maguire, commissioner of PIAA officials, will serve as toastmaster.

Alfred W. Munson, principal of Stroudsburg High, announced last night that a complete setup had been made for tonight's affair.

The National Anthem will open the affair and the invocation will be delivered by Earl H. Groner, superintendent of Stroudsburg schools. The inauguration of the Varsity "S" club will follow and this portion of the program will be handled by Munson. Tom Shiffer, chairman of the nominating committee, will present nominations for officers in the newly formed group.

Featured Speech

Carnevale, the guest speaker, will then be introduced by Marty Baldwin, outstanding local sportsman.

Groner will deliver the testimonial speech to Curtis and the program will end with the awarding of letters to the 36 lettermen present at the affair.

Curtis resigned following the 1950-51 season and brought to close a long and honored career of coaching, which included football and baseball as well as basketball. Curtis has served at Stroudsburg High since 1925, with the exception of two brief periods, one of which was during World War II when the retiring coach served as a Red Cross Field Director in Persia.

Proclamation

Whereas, T. Manning Curtis is completing twenty-one years of coaching athletics at Stroudsburg High school, and

Whereas, "Cap" Curtis is retiring from coaching duties at Stroudsburg High school, and

Whereas, "Cap" Curtis has devoted his untiring efforts to the development of our youth.

Now therefore I, the chief burgess of Stroudsburg, do declare that Thursday, May 24, be observed as "Cap" Curtis Day in the borough of Stroudsburg and that all the citizens show to "Cap" the honor he so richly deserves.

Done in the borough of Stroudsburg this twenty-fourth day of May, year of Our Lord nineteen hundred fifty-one.

HAL H. HARRIS,
Chief Burgess.

Henry Flattens Davidson In 8th

Detroit (AP)—Clarence Henry battered down the big-time hopes of huge Embrel Davidson last night. Henry knocked out Davidson in 50 seconds of the eighth round of their scheduled 10-round heavyweight fight.

Henry smashed the promising young Detroit fighter to the canvas twice in the eighth round and then belted him out of the ring in an unconscious state.

Traded Punches

Davidson, an understudy of former heavyweight champion Joe Louis, traded punches with Henry for four rounds before the greater experience of the Los Angeles youth began to tell.

Reds Pound Konstanty To Nip Phils Despite Sisler's Homer

Cincinnati, (AP)—Cincinnati hopped all over Jim Konstanty in the tenth inning yesterday to defeat Philadelphia, 4 to 3.

The victory, behind the somewhat spotty pitching of Willard Ramsdell, ended a four-game losing streak for the Reds.

Philadelphia held a two-run lead going into the sixth, when Cincinnati tied it up.

Dick Sisler, hitting safely in his thirteenth consecutive game, rifled the ball over the left field fence in the tenth with two out to put his club in front again.

Relief

Fireman Konstanty had taken over for the veteran Ken Heintzelman, who gave way to a pinch batter in the eighth.

Bobby Adams, batting for Ramsdell, singled to start the Reds' half of the tenth. Hatton sacrificed, but Adams was out at second. Then Connie Ryan singled, and Johnny Wyrostek followed with a one-baser, scoring Hatton. Robin Roberts replaced Konstanty. Joe Adcock was an easy out, but Ted Kluszewski drove Ryan home on a safety to center to win the game.

Resort Play Banned By Group

New York— (AP) —All outside basketball competition, including resort play, has been banned by the Eastern College Athletic Conference. The E. C. A. C. is made up of 91 major and minor colleges.

The measure is aimed primarily to resort ball. Several college officials have charged that summer resorts were the spawning grounds for the recent series of basketball fix cases. These officials claimed that would-be fixers were able to contact and tempt players by building up friendship at the various hotels.

Replies

Resorts officials replied that the charges were unjust, asserting that players could be contacted just as easily elsewhere.

Asa Bushnell, commissioner of the E. C. A. C., announced the ban yesterday. Bushnell said the schools had approved the measure in a mail ballot with more than the necessary two-thirds voting in favor of the ban.

Local Legion Club To Hold First Practice

George N. Kemp American Legion Post junior baseball team will hold its initial practice of the season today at the East Stroudsburg Playground, it was announced last night by Tom Carmella, athletic officer at the local American Legion post. The drill session is slated to begin at 5 p.m.

Any boy in Monroe County who hadn't reached his eighteenth birthday before January 1, 1950, is eligible to play on the club this year, Carmella pointed out.

Welcome

Boys from Stroudsburg, East Stroudsburg, Chestnuthill, Polk, Tobyhanna Township, Pocono, Coolbaugh and Barrett are especially invited to battle for a position on the club.

Carmella also announced that Tom Sommers, veteran Pocono Mountain League campaigner, will manage the local American Legion club this year.

Boys making the American Legion club will have an opportunity to be scouted by major league ivory hunters and each will have a chance to play in the annual all-star games held each year at the end of the legion season.

Rain Stops Yankees

Umpire-in-chief Art Passarella made a determined attempt to beat the weatherman but had to concede after twice calling time.

Grid Coach Rehired

Connellsville, Pa. (AP)— Scottdale High school board directors yesterday rehired Ray Ronco as football coach. They had dismissed Ronco two months ago.

Cards Use Break To Down Braves

St. Louis (AP) — Outfielder Sam Jethroe of Boston lost a costly fly in the sun and the St. Louis Cardinals took it from there to score a 6-5 victory over the Braves.

The Red Bird break came in the fourth inning, with St. Louis trailing 3-0. There were two out and runners on first and third when Nippy Jones lifted and easy fly to center.

Jethroe had his hands up as if he were ready for a routine catch. But he lost the ball and it struck him in the stomach and dropped to the ground.

Double

The play was ruled a double under the circumstances and it gave St. Louis two runs. Then Joe Garagiola doubled Jones home and Bill Johnson singled Garagiola across, giving the Cardinals a 4-3 lead.

Boston had scored three times in the second against starter Howard Pollet on successive doubles by Bob Elliott, Walker Cooper and Sid Gordon, along with long flies by Luis Olmo and Buddy Kerr.

The Braves were ready for more runs in the third when Roy Hartsfield walked and Earl Torgeson doubled him to third base with one out. In that crisis, however, Tom Poholsky relieved Pollet and smothered the threat.

Young Poholsky, in his first relief job of the season, blanked the Braves until the ninth, when they scored two runs.

Dodger Hits Overpower Bucs

Pittsburgh (AP)—Gil Hodges hit his fourteenth home run of the season to lead the Brooklyn Dodgers in a 15-hit attack which swamped the Pittsburgh Pirates 11 to 4 last night at Forbes field.

Hodges' circuit blow in the first inning with two aboard gave pitcher Don Newcombe a three-run bulge and enabled him to coast the rest of the way for his fourth victory against two losses.

Westlake's Turn

Giants Edge Cubs On Circuit Blow

Chicago (AP) — Outhit almost three to one, the New York Giants needed only one of their four hits —a home run by Monte Irvin—to defeat the Chicago Cubs yesterday, 2-1.

Irvin's homer, his third of the season, followed on the heels of a walk to Wes Westrum in the fourth inning and gave the Giants their third victory over the Cubs in as many meetings this season. The Cubs were the Giants' favorite fall guys last year, bowing 17 times in 22 clashes with Leo Durocher's dandies.

Loser

The Giants made only three other hits—all singles—off loser Paul Minner while Sal Maglie surrendered ten safeties to the Cubs. The swarthy righthander, however, bore down in the pinches, stranding nine runners, to gain his sixth victory. All have come in succession following two losses.

Video May Help Rose Bowl Game

Evanston, Ill.—(AP)—A potential $200,000 sale of 1952 Rose Bowl television rights may give new hope for continuing the Big Ten-Pacific Coast Conference football marriage.

With such a melon to slice up, at least officials of both conferences will think twice before settling for divorce.

Vote

The big ten today votes on whether to renew the Rose Bowl pact for another three years after a rather shaky five-year trial of keeping the big New Year's Day classic a family affair.

Big ten athletic directors and faculty representatives gathering for the showdown ballot are split in their views. But hovering over the meetings is the prospect of a coast-to-coast video hook-up by next Rose Bowl time which could swell the revenue as much as $200,000 or more with a sponsored live telecast of the granddad of bowl games.

Rain Halts Contests

All action in the Monroe County Softball league was postponed last night because of rain. No dates were announced on which the games will be played.

Red Sox Blank Brownies, 12-0

Boston, (AP)—Lefty Mel Parnell had a perfect day at bat, three singles and a double, while pitching the Boston Red Sox to a 12-0 shutout over the lowly St. Louis Browns yesterday with a four-hit performance.

During the slaughter of the American league cellarites, whose sixth straight loss was held up for 50 minutes by rain, Red Socker Vern Stephens equalled Luke Appling's three-year-old American league third base fielding record by totaling ten assists.

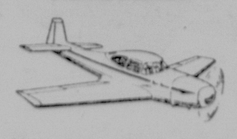

Freak Play

Johnny Pesky set up the tenth such play by fielding Ken Wood's hard-hit grounder and tossing to Stephens, who rifled the ball to first Baseman Walt Dropo for the final putout.

Life of Riley

By JIM RILEY
Sports Editor

Little League baseball holds its grand opening in Stroudsburg on Monday, at which time there will be a parade from court house square to Stroudsburg Playground, where the circuit will play all its games this season. All the 73 players taking part in the circuit will march in the parade, as will many members of the Rotary club. If possible, at least one band will take part in the program and Mayor Hal Harris will toss out the first ball.

Bleachers will be moved from Giffels field to the playground field on Saturday, to provide seating for those who will be on hand to watch the youngsters in action during the coming summer months. However, I hope the moving of the bleachers won't seriously interfere with seating of fans at the home games of Pocono A. C. In the two games played at home this year the local Blue Mountain league entry has played before nearly 400 people each time, and most of them have sat in the bleachers. The drawing power of the newly formed club was underestimated by virtually everyone at the beginning of the present season.

Pocono Lake is causing plenty of concern in the Pocono Mountain league. The circuit has played only two games this season and Pocono Lake hasn't fielded nine men in either game. The first tussle between Reeders and Pocono Lake, on the Tobyhanna Township High school field, found the home club showing up with only five players. Reeders loaned Pocono Lake four players and the defending title holder went on to win easily. Last week Pocono Lake showed up for a game at Saylorsburg with only six players and was forced to forfeit the contest to the Saylorsburg club.

The league became even more concerned last Monday, when Pocono Lake failed to have a representative on hand at the circuit's regular monthly meeting at the Bartonsville hotel. The eyes of all Pocono Mountain league fans will be on Pocono Lake this Sunday, when that club plays host to West End A. C. If the organization fails to field a complete team this time, it might mean that the circuit will operate the remainder of the distance with nine clubs, an occurrence which will do anything but help the circuit at this early date.

George Ruth, president of the Blue Mountain league, is a patient at the Monroe County General hospital at the present time and this column wishes him a speedy recovery. The Bangor resident is in Room 22 of the old section of the hospital and would like very much to hear from his many friends and will welcome visitors. Joe Martocci, manager of the Martocci-Capobianco American Legion Post baseball team, of Roseto, was a spectator at Tuesday's baseball game between East Stroudsburg and Fountain Hill High schools, at the East Stroudsburg playground.

The talk of the local baseball gentry yesterday was the manner in which Ray Steele pitched during the past season. Steele's record of 96 strikeouts, 28 walks and 14 base hits in 54 innings is almost unbelievable. Ray finished the campaign with 17 strikeouts and one walk against Fountain Hill. Although the lanky right hander must have several rough edges smoothed off, he seems destined to go places in this great game of baseball.

While Steele was the center of several baseball conversations, the fact that the East Stroudsburg-Stroudsburg contest won't be played this year also came in for its share of discussion. The man in the street is plenty burned up over the fact that the long awaited pitching duel between Steele and Alden "Red" Fetherman isn't to be staged this year. However, the fans hope that the rival schools can get together on a baseball date prior to the opening of the season next year, so the duel will be held before the two outstanding right handers graduate.

This Ump Was Robbed

Umpire Al Barlick yesterday reported his two leather valises, carrying $600 worth of clothing, were stolen from a coin locker in Union railroad station shortly after his arrival from Pittsburgh Tuesday morning. The locker was ripped open.

Pocono A. C. Meets Portland

Schoonover Uncertain About Hurlers

Pocono A.C. will atempt to launch a new winning streak tonight, when Manager John Schoonover and company take on the Portland Apollos, on the latter's home field, in a Blue Mountain league contest. The game will get underway at 6:15.

Roseto broke a three-game Pocono A. C. winning streak last Sunday, but Schoonover is hopeful of bringing home the bacon tonight, as the Monroe County contingent attempts to recapture first place.

Schoonover was undecided about his pitching assignment for tonight, but he did say that it would be either Clint Besecker or Russell "Lindy" Transue, two veteran right handers.

John Drew will handle the catching, while the infield will line up with Danny Eppley at first base; Dewey Martling, second base; Jim Werkheiser, shortstop and Dick Miller, third base. If Besecker doesn't pitch, either he or Al Bachman will be in left field, while Don Sweda operates in center and Dick Schaller in right.

Portland, currently sporting a record of two wins and the same number of setbacks will be out to stop a streak that has found the Apollos losing their last two outings. However, George Kays will undoubtedly be on the hill for the Apollos tonight. The right hander will be entrusted with the task of halting Portland's slide.

Two more games are on the agenda for the Blue Mountain League and one will have a direct bearing on first place, as West Bangor plays host to Roseto, at Bangor's Memorial Park. This game will also begin at 6:15. Roseto is currently holding down the number one spot with three wins and no defeats, while West Bangor is in a three-way deadlock for second place, with three victories and a single setback.

The final game, also at 6:15, on tonight's agenda, will send Johnsonville against Tatamy, on the latter's home field. Neither team has won a game this season, but one is certain to break into the win column this time.

Turnesa Upset In British Amateur Tournament

Porthcawl, Wales — (AP) — Six American Walker Cup players swept into the fourth round of the British Amateur Golf Championship yesterday, but they lost captain Willie Turnesa.

Still going strong were Bill Campbell, Sam Urzetta, Jim McHale, Charlie Coe, Dick Chapman and Frank Stranahan, the defending champion.

Bo Wininger, a newcomer to big time golf from Pleasantville, N. J., completed the American contingent in the round of 32.

Turnesa, in trouble all the way, bowed out to David Reid, a 19-year-old Scottish coal clerk, on a stymie on the twentieth hole.

Stranahan won four and two over his fellow Walker Cupper Bob Knowles, who frittered away a nine-hole two-up lead by leaving three four-foot putts hanging on the rims of the cups on the back nine.

Urzetta, the American champion, kept alive his chances of winning both titles in one year with a businesslike five and four decision over John Mill of Glasgow.

Perfection

Campbell had his wedge and putter working to perfection as he disposed of Lionel Brown, of England, five and four.

McHale eliminated the last South American hope, Luis Alberto De Herrera of Buenos Aires, four and two.

Coe defeated Irishman W. A. Kirkpatrick three and two though he never led until the thirteenth hole, and Chapman, twice finalist but never a winner in this tournament, breezed home six and five over Richard Cottingham of London.

Wininger, who grabbed the attention of the gallery with a brilliant round Tuesday, defeated Harry McAnespie Jr., of Scotland, a former British boy champion, three and one in a ragged match.

Four other lesser known American entries lost, all by wide margins. Harreld Kirkpatrick of Owensboro, Ky., was beaten six and five by W. A. Slark of London, while his fellow townsman, Dr. Nicholas Nicholas, bowed to Joe Carr, Britain's brightest title threat, four and three.

Ed Lowery of San Francisco succumbed to England's Harley Roberts, four and three, and Major W. D. Henderson of New York, who got to the fourth round of the British championship a year ago, lost by the same margin to D. S. Maunsell of England.

Chestnuthill To Clash With Barrett

Brodheadsville — Otto "Junior" Mills, president of the Monroe County league, announced last night that the title baseball game between Barrett and Chesnuthill will take place tomorrow, at Tannersville, on the Pocono High school diamond. The game is scheduled to get underway at 2:30 p. m.

Chestnuthill, coached by Mills, won the southern division crown on Tuesday, with a 7-6 decision over Polk, in a special playoff contest. Chestnuthill finished the campaign with four wins and one loss, while Polk won three and lost two.

Rival

Barrett on the other hand ran up three straight victories before bowing to Coolbaugh in the final game of the season. Barrett is coached by Joe Murray.

Warren Gursky will umpire behind the plate tomorrow, while Harry Werkheiser calls the plays on the bases.

Washed Off Books

Stockertown — East Bangor's Blue Mountain league baseball contest with Stockertown here last night was washed off the books by rain. No new date was announced for the contest last night.

Your Horoscope Today

By FRANCIS DRAKE

THURSDAY, MAY 24, 1951

March 21 to April 20 (Aries)—You are naturally intuitive, should be doubly so now to your benefit. Avoid being too firm with others and forgetting some regarding self. A happy medium can bring happiness.

April 21 to May 20 (Taurus)—Bountiful possibilities. With ardent pursuit of the worthwhile you can have high success. Play up your talents, wise contacts. Romantic moments to enjoy. Be happy.

May 21 to June 21 (Gemini)—Influences indicate a wealth of various gains possible. Quick action smartly executed will bring satisfactory results now. Advantages in both business and professional tries.

June 22 to July 23 (Cancer)—Today's vibrations should be appealing to you legatees, versatile folks. Stars favor action, energetic effort. Romance favored.

July 24 to August 22 (Leo)—Tasks can be made easier with calm, studious effort. Adhere unwaveringly to good principles laid down by God and law of your Government, but avoid a too-efficient attitude.

August 23 to September 23 (Virgo)—Favorable for essentials and well planned ideas, business deals. Issues dealing with the masses, building, manufacturing trades, union matters sponsored.

September 24 to October 23 (Libra)—Clear, accurate thinking and effort urged for a creditable day. Discount tension with less worry, less fussing about unimportant matters. Stress vital matters.

October 24 to November 22 (Scorpio)—Day can be result-getting for you keen thinkers, if you bypass useless testing of issues, nonentities. News should be stimulating. All 'round good day to dig for goad.

November 23 to December 22 (Sagittarius)—Hardly the time to go all out in financial matters; could be painful for routine, personal efforts. Be guided by conditions, possibilities; don't think you know all the answers.

December 23 to January 21 (Capricorn)—Take time for checking outlook, it will reward. Well done and done rightly are true aims. To breeze through, slipping heedlessly over facts, can set you back, watch this.

January 22 to February 20 (Aquarius)—Diplomatic effort, plus your natural common sense can ride through day gainfully. Rough going can be smoothed and made unimportant. Thought, coordination will count.

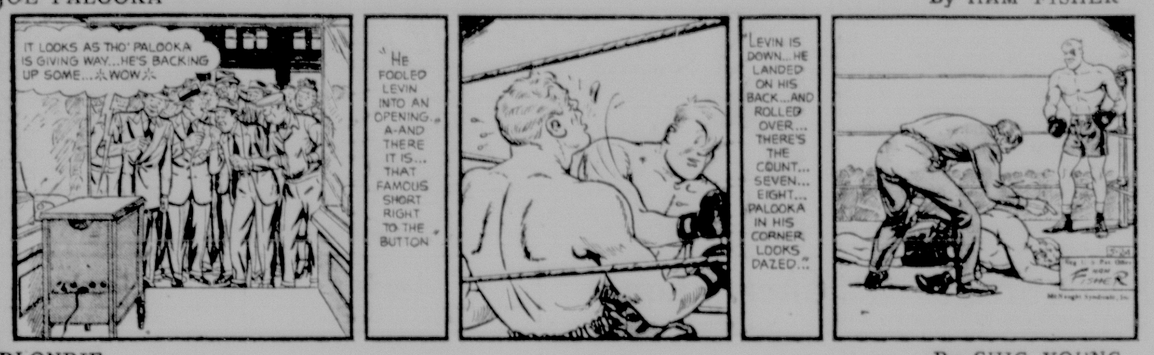

February 21 to March 20 (Pisces)—Don't be satisfied with "half a loaf" this auspicious day. Crowd in all the essentials you can reasonably manage. Heart interests ask forethought.

YOU BORN TODAY: Usually practices what you preach, but are the restless type. Get set, get down to business of making what you try a success, then you will do wonders. Curb any temperamental tendency. Can make a brilliant career. Can be cordial or indifferent. Skillful with hands, artistic, musically inclined. Education, religion and, if married, an understanding spouse, will help you reach admirable goal. 1951 still holds many advantages. Concentrate on your best talents; ask God's blessings daily. Birthdate of: Victoria, queen of England; Sir Arthur Wing Pinero, dramatist.

Dinner-Dance Closes State Lions' Session

Pocono Manor—With a banquet attended by 560 delegates and guests and a semi-formal ball at the Inn here, the Pennsylvania Lions completed the formal features of their 28th annual convention on Tuesday night.

Toastmaster Edgar R. Etter, district governor of 14-G, paid tribute to Convention Chairman Harry J. Drennan and his fellow workers of the host clubs' convention committee. He also touched on the exceptional attractions of the Pocono area as a convention site. He said that, in the beginning the State Council members, when they learned of the selection of the Poconos for the convention, were apprehensive lest hotel accommodations might prove inadequate.

They sent a committee here to meet with the host group and a tour of the area showed mighty and beautiful hotels, so many in number and so spaced apart, that "one grew tired going from one great hostelry to the next". He said that each and every conventioneer was enchanted by the beauty and the accommodations of this area.

He presented Montie Nute of Kennett Square, Pennsylvania's candidate for third international vice president, who is expected to be elected to that position at Atlantic City.

The new district governors, elected during the day's business session were introduced. Elton P. Hall, representing district 14-K, received a prolonged ovation.

The toastmaster called on International Directors Earl D. Baumann and Herbert R. Hargrave who gave the main address. His home is in Fresno, Calif., and he is active in the California-Nevada jurisdiction, to which the Hawaiian Island clubs were connected. He told his hearers of some of the odd and striking features of the island administration.

Here is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your keynumber. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

Reds Retreat; USAF Replaces Air Commanders

Tanks in the west rumbled up to within shelling distance of Communist North Korea across the 38th parallel.

Bled by losses of 70,000 or more, the Reds ceased attacks everywhere and withdrew from the debacle of their second spring offensive. It had lasted only six days.

A field dispatch today from the U.S. Second Division sector—the point where the Reds had hit hardest—quoted dazed Red prisoners as saying they were amazed at how quickly the Allies struck back."

A U. S. Eighth Army spokesman said the Reds showed no sign they would stop at the 38th parallel, the old political boundary for North and South Korea.

In most sectors, the mountainous terrian was the chief obstacle of the U. N. advance.

American rocket-launching ships moved in close to the Communist east coast port of Wonsan last night and ripped loose with a stunning barrage of thousands of rockets.

Fires were still burning and spreading at midnight, a Navy report from the light cruiser Manchester said today.

Wonsan had been blasted by naval siege forces for three months but during the last week shore batteries fired back at Allied warcraft.

The battleship New Jersey and destroyer Brinkley Bass, hit earlier this week by shore fire, were back in action, bombarding Red positions on the east coast, a Far East naval summary said.

Washington (AP)—The Air Force last night announced the replacement of its two top commanders in the Far East.

Lt. Gen. George E. Stratemeyer, who was stricken with a heart attack in Tokyo last week, will be succeeded by Lt. Gen. O. P. Weyland as commander of the Far East Air Forces.

Maj. Gen. Frank F. Everest, assistant chief of staff for operations at Air Force headquarters, was named to succeed Lt. Gen. Earle E. Partridge as Fifth Air Force commander in Japan.

Announcing the reassignments, Gen. Hoyt S. Vandenberg, air chief of staff, said he and the whole Air Force "deeply regret the illness which has made it impossible for General Stratemeyer to continue in command of the Far East Air Forces.

Stratemeyer has held the key Far East command since April, 1949. Partridge has been in command of the Fifth Air Force in Japan since 1948.

The two new commanders will leave for Japan this weekend.

Both Stratemeyer and Partridge have appeared to side with some of the views advocated by Gen. Douglas MacArthur for stronger measures against Communist China, notably on bombing Red China.

Trade Bill Approved

Washington (AP)—The Senate last night passed a bill extending the reciprocal trade agreements program for two years until June 12, 1953.

The vote was 72 to 2, with only Senators Malone (R-Nev) and Dworshakk (R-Idaho) voting no.

The bill carries an economic weapon aimed at Russia and all other Communist countries. It directs the President to withdraw or suspend all tariff concessions which go to Communist nations under the trade pacts.

The measure now goes to conference with the House which passed a three-year extension bill.

Under the reciprocal trade legislation, first put on the statute books back in 1934, the President can cut tariffs in return for concessions from foreign nations. These cuts are embodied in trade agreements.

Gas Firm Slashes Tank Wagon Price

Globemaster Crash Kills Seven Airmen

New Lisbon, Ind.—(AP)—A Giant Air Force cargo plane with 12 men aboard crashed in flames yesterday, killing seven. Five injured men scrambled out, ripping off their fiery clothing.

The plane, a new type C-124, "Globemaster II" tried to make an emergency landing in a newly planted cornfield. It flicked the top of a pine tree, smashed into a huge beech, and flopped on its belly. A sheet of fire shot out and towered 100 feet high.

One of the five survivors who staggered out of the flaming wreckage was the pilot, Capt. John M. Christenson, 30, of Long Island, N.Y. He and four companions, badly hurt, were taken to a hospital at New Castle, five miles away.

A farmer, Jason Ziglar, 20, saw the huge plane circle his field, its four engines "vibrating so hard" that farmhouse windows were shattered.

The globemaster, built by Douglas, can carry 200 fully equipped troops or a payload of 50,000 pounds.

Living Cost Index Halts Upward Spiral

Washington (AP)—The government's cost-of-living index came to nearly a dead stop in its upward spiral yesterday for the first time since the outbreak of the Korean war last June 25.

Food prices were lower for the first time since Febraury, 1950.

However, the index had already risen enough since January to assure 1,000,000 auto workers a three-cent hourly wage boost. The increase is tied to rise-and-fall "escalator clauses" in the workers' contracts, based on the Federal cost-of-living barometer.

The latest index is based on prices as of April 15. The Bureau of Labor Statistics put out two sets of figures—one an "old style" set and the other a new style revised index, based on later buying habits.

The old style index showed that on April 15 Americans were paying 184.5 per cent of the 1935-39 average for their normal living costs—the same figure as on March 15. That is the index followed by the auto industry's contract.

The new-style index edged up to 184.6 or 0.1 per cent above the March 15 level.

Food prices dropped 0.2 per cent with the food index standing at 225.7 per cent of the 1935-39 average or 11.1 per cent above last June.

State Week Dates Set

Harrisburg, (AP)—Geared to celebrations on the local level, the 1951 Pennsylvania week will be held from October 15 through 21. Gov. John S. Fine yesterday appointed Commerce Secretary Andrew J. Sordoni to coordinate the celebration activities throughout the Commonwealth.

House Group Votes Hike In Income Taxes

Washington—(AP)—A bitterly divided House Ways and Means committee voted yesterday to increase everybody's income tax 12½ per cent and to slap $730,000,000 additional excess profits tax on corporations.

The committee's 10 Republican members, overridden in the voting by the 15 Democrats, angrily charged that the changes were "railroaded through" after the majority members reached an agreement at a secret caucus.

The flat 12½ per cent boost in individual income tax liabilities would be somewhat easier on smaller taxpayers than the committee's original plan, and correspondingly tougher on those with bigger incomes.

The original plan, adopted May 9 but now discarded, called for an increase of three percentage points in each income tax bracket. This figured out a 15 per cent increase for those in the lowest bracket and 3.4 per cent at the top.

That 3.4 per cent in the top income range, however, was on a much bigger proportion of total income than the 15 per cent in the bottom pay group.

For instance Capitol tax experts figured that present law provides an $120 tax bill for a married taxpayer with two dependents who has $3,000 left after allowable deductions but before personal exemption. That is an even 4 per cent of his net income. Under the May 9 plan the bill would go to $138 and under yesterday's change $135.

At $100,000 a year the experts figured the tax bill for the same man to be $51,912 under present law. That is more than half of the whole net income. The discarded 3 percentage point rise would carry that tax bill up to $54,840. Under yesterday's change the increase would be to $58,401.

The new formula, in general, gives a better break than the percentage point system to single persons with incomes below about $8,000 a year. It takes more from single persons above that level. For a married person the break point comes at about $15,000.

A single person with a net income of $3,000 now pays $488 income tax. Under the original Ways and Means proposal his tax would have gone up to $560. It would be $549 under yesterday's plan.

Comparable tax liability figures for a married man with two children and a $5,000 income before personal exemptions are $520, $598 and $585.

The ceiling on the amount of taxes the federal government can take from any individual would be raised by yesterday's action from 87 to 90 per cent of income.

The corporate tax ceiling — the total amount that can be collected from any one firm in the form of normal tax, surtax and excess profits tax—would go up from the current 62 per cent to 70 per cent.

Kerr Denounces 'MacArthuritis'

Denver, (AP)—Senator Kerr (D-Okla) said last night the Republicans are suffering from "MacArthuritis" and want to mire America down in a bloody, all-out war with Red China.

Kerr, first of the congressional critics of Gen. Douglas MacArthur, spoke at a western Democratic conference at which Secretary of Agriculture Brannan led a party chorus of hopeful expressions that President Truman will run again in 1952.

School Bill Passes

Harrisburg, (AP)—A bill authorizing the State to take over operation of financially distressed school districts in Pennsylvania was passed by the House yesterday. It went to the Senate.

Mother And Child Lose Lives; Two Others Critically Injured

ABC Merges With Movie Exhibitor

New York (AP)—A merger agreement was reached yesterday between th American Broadcasting Co., big radio-television network, and United Paramount Theatres, Inc., which operates some 600 motion picture theatres throughout the nation.

The merger will be achieved by an exchange of stock. The new company will be known as "American Broadcasting-Paramount Theatres, Inc." ABC stockholders will receive approximately $25,000,000 worth of stock in the merged firm.

The merger still is subject to approval by the boards of directors and stockholders of the two companies and also by the Federal Communications commission, which regulates radio and television broadcasting.

While the merger brings together television and motion picture interests, it does not necessarily presage a supply of late films for ABC since United Paramount does not produce motion pictures. However, as a major film exhibitor and also employer of intertainment talent for the stages of its theaters, it is in a position to strengthen ABC programming.

In their joint statement, Leonard H. Goldenson, president of United Paramount, and Edward J. Noble, board chairman of ABC, said:

"Complete daytime and nighttime programs on a scale and of a quality not previously practicable nor attainable are in prospect through the new company. New personalities and programs will be introduced to both radio and television."

Western Union Boost Blocked

Washington (AP)—The Federal Communications commission yesterday blocked temporarily a proposed general increase in Western Union's telegraph rates.

The increases, involving an average 10 per cent rise in general telegram service and a 15 per cent hike in telegraph press rates, were scheduled to become effective June 1.

The FCC ordered the company to leave present rates undisturbed at least until September 1, in order to give the commission time to investigate the reasonableness of the proposed changes.

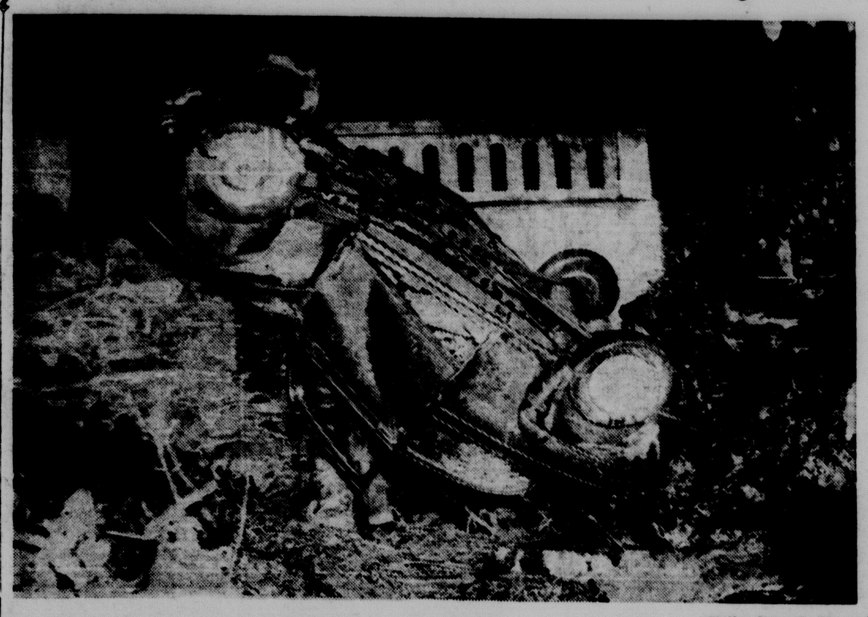

Public hearings on the matter were ordered to begin here June 25 before FCC Examiner Elizabeth C. Smith.

Churchmen Assail Mercy Killings

Cincinnati, (AP)—The General Council of the Presbyterian church in the USA yesterday expressed official opposition to a movement to legalize mercy killing.

Dr. Jesse H. Baird, San Francisco, council chairman, said the general assembly, which meets today will be asked to take action.

The assembly will be requested "to issue such a statement on the Presbyterian attitude toward this problem as will inform our church of the serious danger inherent in the movement.' "

ACCIDENT WHICH TOOK TWO LIVES NEAR PORTLAND—Two and one-half year old Jean Whiting was killed almost instantly and her mother, Mrs. Velma Whiting, 32, of Browns Mill, N.J., died later last night after the car shown above ran off the road near the approach to the Delaware Interstate bridge. The child's grandparents were seriously injured.

Brooks Urges U. S. Use New Atomic Shells

Washington, (AP)—Rep. Brooks (D-La) urged yesterday that atomic artillery shells be used by U. S. troops fighting the Chinese Communists in Korea.

He spoke as if use or non-use of such a weapon were only a matter of choice, though Army authorities have gone no further than an expression of confidence that it will be developed some day.

Use of the shells, Brooks told the House, would shorten the Korean war and "save the lives of thousands of our soldiers, sailors and airmen and will relieve the strain upon our people at home."

Brooks, second ranking Democrat on the House Armed Services committee, said recent test explosions have shown progress in development of the shells and the country should take advantage of this weapon.

House Okays FEPC Bill

Harrisburg—(AP)— A controversial bill setting up a fair employment practices commission in Pennsylvania passed the House yesterday by a lopsided margin—after a six-year fight.

The House approved the administration measure, banning discrimination in employment or union membership by a 160-38 vote.

A rousing two-hour debate preceded the roll call. All dissenters were Republicans. The bill went to the Senate.

House passage of the bill climaxed a six-year battle by FEPC advocates to obtain a vote on the controversial issue. It was kept bottled in committees in the House and Senate throughout the 1945, 1947 and 1949 sessions. The House Labor Relations committee, at this session approved the bill after Gov. John S. Fine prodded the group to action.

Wentzel Freed; Wife Greets Him

Philadelphia, (AP)—While his wife waited quietly outside in the rain, Gerald C. Wentzel walked through a prison gate to freedom yesterday after serving three years of a murder sentence.

The 41-year-old Pottstown, Pa., diemaker carried a suitcase, a suit and a package but he dropped all three as he ran, smiling, to his wife. They embraced, and kissed, each saying over and over: "Darling, Darling"

"I am happy and pleased that I have been vindicated," Wentzel said.

He had been convicted of second degree murder in the strangulation of Miriam Green, a Pottstown divorcee with whom Wentzel said he had been intimate. But he denied repeatedly he had killed her.

Iran Situation Critical

Moscow (AP)—Foreign diplomats here fear the Iranian situation is loaded with dynamite which could blow up world peace. Some observers are of the opinion there is a growing possibility Iran may turn to Soviet Russia for advice, if not aid, in operating the British-run oil resources she has nationalized.

Bradley Demands Safeguards In Event Of Truce In Korea

Washington, (AP)—Gen. Omar Bradley told senators yesterday South Korea would remain under constant threat of new Communist attacks if a peace settlement called for the withdrawal of United Nations forces without any safeguards.

The five-star general said cease-fire terms will have to contain "certain safeguards" against a renewal of Red aggression—and will involve more than just the withdrawal of Chinese and U. N. forces from Korea.

"The question of decision that is going to have to be reached," he said, "is whether that (withdrawal) is acceptable from all angles—political, military and so forth—and it is going to involve more than just the simple things, that we both withdraw.

"I think it is going to have to have certain other safeguards but it may boil down to a question of whether you accept that or nothing."

Bradley said from a military viewpoint a withdrawal by the Chinese-U. N. forces would leave the Communists "in a more advantageous position to renew the conflict."

Bradley gave these views to the Senate inquiry group studying the reasons behind the ouster of Gen. Douglas MacArthur.

Earlier, he declared that MacArthur's own field intelligence should have stopped the big Chinese Red build-up in North Korea last fall before it drove his Army into retreat.

With this testimony, Bradley openly challenged the MacArthur argument that this information was beyond the limits of his command and was the responsibility of higher intelligence in Washington.

But Bradey added that MacArthur could not be blamed if his field commanders did not give him the information "which could have been obtained by air reconnaissance and ground reconaissance'.'

Tax Bill Exempts Non-Residents

Harrisburg (AP)— A House committee surprised the administration yesterday by approving a bill exempting non-resident workers from paying local wage taxes.

Rep. Charles C. Smith, Republican House leader, promptly asked Chairman Howard F. Boorse (R-Montgomery) for re-consideration of the vote by the Municipal Corporations committee.

Boorse refused and the measure was later reported to the House from commitee. Smith said he act-

Acheson Ready To Negotiate With Chinese

Washington—(AP)—Secretary of State Acheson yesterday declared American readiness to negotiate with the Chinese Communists for a settlement of the war in Korea. But he said he knew of no overtures from the other side.

His declaration was made at his news conference in response to questions about a speech made by his chief subordinate for Far Eastern affairs, Assistant Secretary of State Dean Rusk.

Rusk had called the Red regime "a colonial Russian government." In a speech in New York Friday he also said the Chinese Nationalist government on Formosa represents the views of the Chinese people "more authentically" than does the Communist administration.

Rusk's speech has been widely interpreted as a change in United States policy toward China, barring Korean peace negotiations with the Reds and firmly attaching the United States to Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek on Formosa.

Federal Policy Group Opposes 44-Hour Week

Washington (AP) — The Manpower Policy committee has recommended against a 44-hour basic work week in industry during the emergency. The longer work week would mean no overtime, "premium" pay for workers until after 44 hours instead of 40 as at present.

Chairman Arthur S. Fleming announced the decision by the committee, composed of representatives from various Federal agencies.

However, this does not mean that the idea, suggested by several members of Congress, is dead. It will be considered on June 14 by the Labor-Management Manpower Policy committee, which advises Mobilization director Charles E. Wilson.

Car Strikes Tree, Plunges To Creekbed

Portland — A two and one-half year old girl was killed outright and her mother died later in Monroe County General hospital last night following an accident two miles south of here late yesterday.

The child's maternal grandparents were also seriously injured as the car, in which the four were riding, went out of control and lunged off Route 46 at the approach to the Delaware bridge.

The infant was pronounced dead on the scene by Dr. Eugene Rushin, Portland physician, but the other three persons were rushed to General hospital where the mother died at 9:30 p. m.

Chief of Police Jesse Felker, of Portland, identified the two victims as Mrs. Velma Whiting, 32, of Browns Mills, N. J., and her daughter, Jean.

He further identified the injured grandparents as Mrs. Marguerite Prior, 59, also of Browns Mills, and her husband, Lewis Prior, also 59. Their conditions were described as "fair" shortly before midnight.

When Mrs. Whiting, whose husband is reported to be serving with armed forces in Korea, died at the hospital, Justice of the Peace Marshall H. Neyhart, of East Stroudsburg, acted as deputy coroner and released the body to Horton funeral home in Portland and Johnsonville.

The body of the little girl had already been taken to the Johnsonville mortuary.

The age of the child was estimated at two and one-half years last night by Dr. Rushin and Clayton R. Horton, the funeral director, who acted as a Northampton county deputy coroner in the infant's death.

There was no other vehicle involved in the accident, which Chief Felker reported as occurring at 6.15 p.m.

The ill-fated machine was proceeding eastward on Route 46 (or Pennsylvania Route 987) toward the Interstate bridge when it suddenly careened off the highway, struck a tree on the right side of the road, spun to the left and rolled over the sidewall of the small bridge just west of the large bridge sign and the intersection of the dirt road leading to Tuscarora inn.

The car dropped 12 feet down into the mud of the shallow creekbed. Although it was raining at the time, there was no water in the small course.

Stephen DeKay, of Delaware, N. J., an Interstate bridge policeman on duty at the Pennsylvania end of the bridge, ran the short distance to the overturned car and pulled Mrs. Whiting, the baby and Mrs. Prior from the wrecked vehicle.

He said that Prior, who had been driving the light model sedan, was already out of the upsidedown vehicle when he reached the creekbed. DeKay later helped the elderly man up the steep bank to the roadside.

A call was placed for the General hospital ambulance and Chief Felker and Pfcs. Emil J. Weber and Stephen Sabin, of Stroudsburg State police, were notified.

As a crowd gathered at the bridge approach, it was also determined that a small poodle dog apparently the pet of the little girl, had also been killed in the crash.

DeKay said the dog had been in the rear of the two-door sedan with Mrs. Whiting and her daughter, Jean. Mrs. Prior had been riding with her husband in the front seat.

The baby was still cradled in the mother's arms when the woman was taken from the car. Both had suffered extensive injuries when thrown against the roof and sides of the rolling machine.

Mrs. Whiting suffered a fractured skull, internal hemorrhages, a back injury and a fracture and severe laceration of the left leg.

A rush call was sent to Wilkes-Barre Red Cross headquarters for blood to give Mrs. Whiting a transfusion. It arrived too late, however despite an escort by State police.

Police said Prior received internal chest injuries and lacerations of the chest and face. His wife, Marguerite, suffered shock and other possible injuries, although it was reported that she was less seriously hurt than the others.

As the Stroudsburg troopers stood by waiting for the shipment of blood to reach this area, State

DiSalle Spurns Chance To Win $8 Steak Dinner With Explanation He's Now Allergic To Meat

by ARTHUR EDSON

Washington— (AP) —Mike DiSalle got an offer of an $8 steak dinner yesterday. All he has to do is find one registered Republican working for the Office of Price Stabilization in Colorado.

However, DiSalle had in effect turned down the offer even before it was made. He said he's getting allergic to meat.

All this came up at a meeting of the House Agriculture committee. DiSalle, the nation's price boss, was there to explain a rollback he has ordered on meat cattle lovers all, don't like the prices.

Members of the committee, price rollback and said so, again and again and again.

Rep. August H. Andresen (R-Minn) at one point said, "Now you take the meat you buy—."

"I don't buy it generally," DiSalle said sadly, "I've developed an allergy to it lately."

A little later Andresen said:

"Now you said you didn't like meat....."

"I didn't say I didn't like it," DiSalle said. "There is something about meat that disturbs me the last couple of days."

Well, that seems plain enough. Man hears too much about meat, man decides he doesn't like it so much any more.

But Rep. Hill (R-Colo) apparently wasn't convinced.

Here Hill burst in with:

"If you used the political hacks, the ones you put in Colorado, why those figures are no good. They're all Democrats who have been beaten for office. I'll buy you an $8 steak dinner if you can find me one registered Republican."

Rep. Hoeven (R-Iowa): "Count Iowa in on that."

Rep. Lovre (R-SD): "And South Dakota."

"Well," began DiSalle.

"There's no need of you looking in Colorado," Hill said. "I've already looked. They are Democrats, every one of them."

Search For Slayer Shifts To Culvers Lake Section

Dingmans Ferry—The sparsely populated New Jersey area east of here was combed by authorities yesterday as a manhunt for a Hoboken dock murderer shifted to the Sussex county hills.

The search was concentrated yesterday in the area extending from Culvers Lake and Branchville to Layton and the section on the east side of the Delaware river opposite Dingmans Ferry.

The hunted man has been identified as 28-year-old Michael Murphy, who is wanted in the Monday killing of Nunzio Aluotto, 45, a North Bergen longshoreman. Aluotto was shot down as he stood in a dock area union office at Hoboken.

In the glove compartment of the getaway vehicle, said to be Murphy's, was a map marked to show a route from Hoboken to Culvers Lake.

INDIAN LOVE CALL

That MAN Curtis

Today is "Cap" Curtis Day in Stroudsburg by formal proclamation of Mayor Hal H. Harris.

T. Manning Curtis, a graduate of East Stroudsburg State Teachers College, became affiliated with Stroudsburg High school as coach and later athletic director around 1926.

Aside from his able qualifications and fine record as a coach, Curtis left his impact on hundreds of young men of this community to the extent that we and others who know of his works—as few people do, unfortunately—frequently refer to men he has touched with his great spirit as—"he was one of Cap's boys."

The reference is always to someone who has just made some outstanding achievement in some field of endeavor.

No further commentary is necessary on the man Curtis than that, except to express the sincere hope that he will continue, in some form or other, to be exposed to the youth of the community for good of the community.

Red Cross Birthday

The American Red Cross is 70 years old, with nearly 4,000 chapters in almost every county in the United States and with 1,650,000 volunteers aiding in its work.

When Clara Barton and her handful of volunteers organized the first chapter in May of 1881, they doubtless had no belief that from these small beginnings would grow the great institution which with the passing years of peace and war has performed such valuable services to persons in need.

It was in the very first year of the founding of the Red Cross that the initial disaster relief was accomplished, with shipments to victims of forest fires in Michigan, but since that time the Red Cross has aided millions of victims of domestic disaster at an expenditure of more than $150,000,000.

The Spanish-American War of 1898 saw the start of the services to the armed forces, when Clara Barton led a group of Red Cross nurses to Cuba, and in each succeeding war the great national organization has increased its help both at home and overseas.

Monroe County Chapter American Red Cross has been in the forefront of every type of Red Cross achievement in every crisis beginning with World War One. The local chapter now holds the finest record in Northeastern Pennsylvania in the Blood Donor program.

The work of the Red Cross grows ever more essential to the welfare of the nation, and it is comforting to observe the tireless and unselfish work of those countless men and women of every community dedicated to the success of the individual chapters.

First Step

The Interstate Commerce Commission having given its necessary approval, a 25 per cent increase of parcel post rates will become effective next Oct. 1.

It is a necessary increase, since this particular Post Office service is operating at a heavy loss. But so are other services, which contribute to the huge deficit, and only Congress can change the rates for them.

Congress should do that duty. And Congress should vote into prompt effect the Hoover Commission's recommendations for putting more efficiency into the Post Office Department and for taking politics out.

If automobiles had been invented 25 years earlier, it is a question if they could have developed enough power to move their massive engines, due to lack of proper alloy steel.

Try And Stop Me

By Bennett Cerf

Lillian Russell, when she was reigning star of the muscial-comedy stage, was guest of honor at a banquet in London's Savoy Hotel. At her left was an honest-to-goodness Rhodesian chief, who soon gave every evidence of having succumbed to Miss Russell's charms. At the banquet's end he bowed almost to the floor and in the best, clipped, Oxfordian accent exclaimed, "Miss Russell, had Heaven only made you black and fat, you would be irresistible."

On the TV program "Who Said That?" Norman Thomas recalled a pungent quip of Bernard Shaw's that all the columnistic obits overlooked: "If it's true that the other planets are inhabited, then the earth must be their lunatic asylum."

On its way to the Kentucky Derby a spirited horse neighed to his companion, "I'm mighty tired of hearing how such and such a horse won a big race by a nose. If I find myself reaching the finish line first at Churchill Downs on Saturday, I'm going to turn around and BACK ACROSS."

Hollywood

By Gene Handsaker

Hollywood—Movie-capital correspondents, being human — despite what some stars may think—like some stars better than others. Top-favorite buy among a good many is unpretentious William Holden.

Not necessarily as an interviwee. Off the screen, Bill says and does litte that is sensational. His nearest approach to a hobby is his three kids' model plane whose motorized propeller chewed the tip of his finger the other day. When he burns the midnight oil, it's likely to be at a meeting of the Screen Actors Guild, of which he is first vice-president.

In his first picture, Barbara Stanwyck taught him to conserve energy. He was fretful. "If you knew the scene backward and forward," she told him one day, "you wouldn't be half as nervous." Holden says now: "She was right. I'd gone to a show the night before instead of studying my lines." His wife now cues him on his nightly script-studying. "When I say, 'That's enough,' she says, 'Let's go through it once more'—and we do." Brenda doesn't want to act any more, Bill said, unless they do a picture together. So far his employers haven't leaped at the idea of another husband-and-wife team.

Holden's unusual contract, shared by two studios, completes its second seven-year term next year. If he re-signs, he wants freedom to do "outside" pictures. He has bought screen rights to a western novel, "Signal Guns at Sun-Up", for independent production.

His present film, "Force of Arms," is his fourth with Nancy Olson. "Sunset Boulevard" brought Oscar nominations to both of them. They plan no more together for fear of being thought of as halves of a team.

Bill turned down "Dear Brat," sequel to "Dear Ruth" and "Dear Wife," both of which starred him. "I don't want to be a sequel actor," he says. What does he want? Just "a variety of roles" and "to keep working."

These Days -- By George E. Sokolsky

Sokolsky

The Wrong Road

Often we wonder how we got that way. For over 300 years Americans moved in one general direction and then they lost their way and now we are wondering what happened to us. We read the shameful Kefauver and Fulbright reports; we watch the unbelievable MacArthur investigation; we shudder at the kind of vulgar men who govern us—and we wonder at what turning we went wrong.

I have been re-reading an article by Father John C. Ford on "The Fundamentals of Holmes's Suristic Philosophy."

No man exercised a greater influence on the political thinking of the United States since John Marshall. Most of the young men whom we identify as the disciples of Justice Felix Frankfurter were really pupils of Oliver Wendell Holmes, whose intellectual capacity was not only tremendous but attractive.

Yet Oliver Wendell Holmes viewed the law more in the German rather than the Anglo-Saxon manner. He believed not in the sovereignty of the individual — who possess inalienable rights — but rather that sovereignty, vested in the state, gives to the state well-nigh unlimited powers over the individual. If the state can do anything, it can, from a practical standpoint, do no wrong. This is what Holmes said on this point:

"Sovereignty is a form of power, and the will of the sovereign is law because he has power to compel obedience or punish disobedience and for no other reason. The limits within which his will is law then, are those within which he has, or is believed to have power to compel or punish."

As Father Ford says:

"It is clear that in a system in which law and rights are based essentially on physical power the divorce between the legal order and the ethical or moral order is complete . . ."

And therein lie most of our troubles today, although we have a tendency to seek some tangible reason, such as that Dean Acheson is incompetent or Alger Hiss was a Russian agent. While such explanations may apply to these two men, they do not give us the clue to the general debacle in manners and morals. They do not explain the apathy of the people in the face of outrageous corruption.

We need to probe the problem more deeply and it must be in the realm of ideas, for a people are what they believe and they act as their assumptions permit them to. A people who believe in a moral system based upon natural law—that is, the revealed law of God—will act very differently from a people who believe this statement of Holmes:

". . . The law is full of phraseology drawn from morals, and by the mere force of language continually invites us to pass from one domain to the other without receiving it, as we are sure to do unless we have the boundary constantly before our minds. The law talks about right, and duties, and malice, and intent, and negligence, and so forth, and nothing is easier, or, I may say, more common in legal reasoning, than to take these words in their moral sense, at some stage of the argument and so to drop into fallacy. For instance, when we speak of the rights of man in a moral sense, we mean to mark the limits of interference with individual freedom which we think are prescribed by conscience, or by our ideal, however reached . . . manifestly, therefore, nothing but confusion or thought can result from assuming that the rights of man in a moral sense are equally rights in the sense of the constitution and the law . . ."

And further he says:

". . . For my own part, I often doubt whether it would not be a gain if every word of moral significance could be banished from the law altogether, and other words adopted which should convey legal ideas uncolored by anything outside the law . . ."

When morality is banished from the law, all sense of right disappears as well. Precisely what difference is there between the concepts of Hitler and Stalin and those of Oliver Wendell Holmes? All three set so temporary an arrangement as the power of the government of the moment above all moral concepts—that is, against the entire experience of the human race.

And in this tone have many of our most important men been educated. The materialism of Karl Marx is not the only kind of materialism from which our generation suffers.

Washington Report

By Fulton Lewis Jr.

Washington — In 1946, when Communist armies in China were on their knees begging for mercy, Secretary of State Dean Acheson rushed up to Congress hollering for help. He wanted to arm, equip, and train ten Chinese Communist divisions.

Alger Hiss and John Carter Vincent helped Acheson write the bill to arm the Reds.

In 1949 when Chiang Kai-Shek was driven to his knees, Acheson turned his back, something he wouldn't even do to Alger Hiss, who, as far as the record goes, never did do much in the way of fighting for this country.

It's all in the record, and it's not a very pretty picture. In 1946 the Communists in China had less than 50 trained divisions in the field. Chiang had over 300. Given a little moral support, American advice and a few dollars, Chiang's forces could have mopped up the Reds.

Communist leaders in China knew this. They hollered for help. Acheson and Gen. George C. Marshall heard them. Here is what Acheson told Congress in 1946:

"Communist leaders have asked and Gen. Marshall has agreed that their integration with other forces (Chiang's) be preceded by a brief period of United States training and by the supply of minimum quantities of equipment," to 10 Communist divisions.

Congress balked. So Acheson and Marshall got mad and proceeded to disarm Chiang's divisions, cut off military supplies and spread charges that the Nationalists were corrupt and useless.

Within three years Chiang's forces were reduced to virtual impotence. The State Department and Pentagon did nothing.

Congress, in 1949, forced the administration to take action. Acheson came back to Congress to appear before the Senate Foreign Relations committee. Chiang wanted funds, U. S. officers, and arms. Here is what Acheson said in part:

"To furnish solely military material and advice (to Chiang) would only prolong hostilities and the suffering of the Chinese people."

It's all in the Record, page 1053 of the State Department White Paper on China, issued in 1949. Naturally, Acheson's testimony on arming the 10 Chinese Communist divisions is omitted. It wouldn't prolong the suffering of the Chinese in 1946 to arm Communists, but it would in 1949 if we armed the Nationalists.

Just how slick can you get with the country's security? Acheson goes a long way in answering that question. In 1946, when Senator Karl Mundt, then a Representative, tried to pin Acheson's ears back with questions about how the Chinese Nationalists would react to our arming their Communist enemies, he got sassed by the Secretary of State and administration stooges in this fashion:

Mundt: "I wonder what would be the attitude of the State Department if Mexico or Argentia were to request of Russia a similar training mission to train, advise and equip its army on our own continent at this time?"

The late Rep. Sol Bloom, then chairman of the Foreign Affairs committee: "The chair is going to rule right now, Mr. Mundt, that all those questions are entirely out of order and have nothing to do with this legislation. Kindly confine yourselves to the legislation before us."

Mundt: "I am talking about the same type of program—precisely if this were reversed. If the Secretary (Acheson) does not desire to answer the question, I cannot make him do it, but I have given him a chance."

Acheson: "I think the chairman ruled the question out."

The Nationalists were in control of China at this time—with 300 divisions to the Communists' 50. Yet, Acheson implied that if we armed and trained ten Red divisions, Chiang wouldn't mind.

Here Acheson now, in 1949, when the situation was reversed, and the Reds were in control of China as a result of having abandoned Chiang:

"To aid Chiang would arouse in them (the Chinese people) deep resentment against the United States."

You have to slice this one up pretty thin to get what the Secretary of State is putting across in Congress.

In 1946 Acheson brushed off the thought that if we aided the Communists the Chinese people—that is, the Nationalist government—would get sore.

In 1949—when the Communists had control — when the Chinese people were dominated from Moscow—Acheson warned Congress that if we aided Chiang, the Reds would get sore. He played swing man on the word "people," and Congress let him get away with it. Chinese "people" in 1946 were Nationalists; in 1949 Communists—the same Communists now killing Americans in Korea. That made the big difference to Acheson—and he admits it right in the Record.

Walter Winchell on Broadway

Winchell

Marie Ault, the famed British actress who passed last week (at 80), was a young ingenue doing walk-ons when Oscar Wilde and Geo. Bernard Shaw were dominating the English Theatre.

She once was asked: "Can you remember any striking contrasts between Shaw and Wilde?"

"Oh, yes," she said. "When Mr. Shaw saw you in the street, he would wave his cap, and you were expected to wave your 'kerchief in return. With Mr. Wilde, you'd both be waving 'kerchiefs!"

Item: "Lower mental standards for Armed Forces."

Truman's statement that "Marshall was doing fine" (in the MacArthur probe) reminds us of the prizefight gag with the tag: "Well keep yer eye on the referee—because somebody's battin' the hell outta me!"

"Hey!" passionately writes Bob Dunn. "Does Mr. John, the milliner, know there's a plumber named Mr. Hatt?"

"The word 'alarmist'," writes Marguerite Higgins (in "War in Korea"), "has come into disrepute in America. I think it should come back into good standing. We need more alarmists."

You li'l ol' Skewpie Doll!

From the review of Lionel Barrymore's "We Barrymores" in the Sunday Times: "... the same Mr. Barrymore who later concedes he made a very poor Macbeth and who wryly quotes Heywood Broun's classic line about that production—'Lay on Macduff, lay off McBride!'"

Not Broun, son. Women's Wear drama critic Kelcey Allen.

The boss commutes from his vast estate,

"Dear Walter," writes Meta Hoffman, "In the Gary Cooper rift story the United Press report (from Hollywood) used an early phrase of yours I haven't seen you use for 15 years—(That Way) — 'The story got around that Cooper and Patricia Neal were that way about each other.' Even if you are not here to stay, your reporting style apparently is."

Item: "Maureen O'Hara stung by scorpion while on location." Imagine a scorpion wealthy enuf to hire a press agent.

The Love Letter of the Career: "Dear Mr. W.: The attached may interest you. It is a promotional ad down here in the New Orleans Times-Picayune States putting your proper name where it belongs in the American language. Note the caption—Martin Burke."

The Daily Mirror, King Features and the ABC network are stealing it, if you all don't mind.

Geoffrey Bocca in London's John Bull: "Among the millions of Sir Gladwyn Jebb fans in the U. S. were one extra special couple, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Winchell. One day America's No. 1 columnist spotted the six foot two Jebb striding down 5th Avenue and introduced himself. 'We had a very pleasant chat,' Jebb said, 'I asked him to have lunch with me sometime.'

"This meeting of the British diplomat and the frequently anti-British Winchell amused Jebb. The incident annoyed the Daily Mail's columnist, who reminded Sir Gladwyn that the American once said of Bevin (Jebb's chief): 'Bevin's operation was a failure. He recovered!' The two have never gotten together for lunch."

Looking at Life

By Erich Brandeis

Brandeis

It is a beautiful morning as I write this.

The sun is shining. The sky is blue. The birds are singing. The wistaria is just starting to bloom outside my window.

A little farther away I see the white and purple lilac, and the dogwood, in all their glory.

It is the kind of day that makes you glad you are alive and thank God for having given you so much to enjoy.

But alongside of me lie my morning newspapers with which I have just finished.

In them is gloom.

But none of that gloom is God-made. It is all man-made.

At these affairs they spread gloom and fear and dire forebodings.

A Senator said that unless we did what he sponsored, the world would soon come to an end. A cabinet member predicted the destruction of all civilization unless we did just the opposite of what the Senator suggested.

Everybody who spoke had something to say about what is WRONG.

Nobody had anything to say about the thousands of things that are RIGHT.

You need go no farther than the first chapter of the Bible to see that God created everything else before He created MAN.

He DID create man not just to enjoy all those other things but also to be their caretaker, their guardian, their preserver.

Yet even without MAN the Universe would still be here. There would still be trees and flowers, mountains and seas, the sun, the moon, the stars.

If we could only learn the relative importance of ourselves in the whole scheme of the world.

If we could only see ourselves as we must look to God, Whom we picture in His heaven, looking down upon us billions of human pin-points, making an unholy mess of His wonderful creation!

He describes a dinner as follows:

"We had a fricassee of rabbits and chickens, a leg of mutton boiled, three carps in a dish, a great dish of a side of lamb, a dish of roasted pigeons, a dish of four lobsters, three tarts, a lamprey pie, a dish of anchovies, a good wine of several sorts, and all things mighty noble and to my great content."

But here is another entry:

"About the middle of the night I was very ill—I think with eating and drinking too much—and so I was forced to call my wife. But in the morning I was pretty well, only got cold, and so had pain . . ."

Whenever Samuel Pepys had committed misdemeanors against nature, he became very pessimistic and thought the world was coming to an end. But then he took some medicine and felt better.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

The Missing Conversation

Why all the Washington fuss over whether either General Bradley or President Truman should reveal the exact conversation between the chiefs of Staff and the President on the recall of General MacArthur? Elmer Twitchell, the famous conversation scout and confab sleuth, has a transcript of the historic meeting. It follows:

President: — Well, gentlemen, who is running this Korean matter, MacArthur or us?

Bradley—That's the $64 question, sir.

President—And this is the time we go for the jackpot. Am I right? Omar, put down that pen. That new magazine series can wait.

Bradley—That isn't what the editor says. Now let's see, what were we discussing?

President—I can't tell you without the President's permission. Oh, no . . . that's my mistake . . . I AM the President! . . . We were discussing MacArthur. He's got to go.

Bradley—I know it, sir.

President—How do you know it? There must be a leak here somewhere.

Bradley—You just told us, didn't he, George?

Marshall—I don't like to trust my memory on that but I think it is correct.

President—Dean, what do you think?

Acheson—I get one satisfaction out of this: no matter what happens in this case it can't be blamed on me ALONE!

Marshall—I am not asleep, to the best of my knowledge, although I would want to check to be sure.

President—I wish you wouldn't crack peanuts with your teeth while I am talking, Omar.

Bradley—Napoleon, Wellington, Hannibal, Lee and Grant, if I am not mistaken, cracked nuts with their teeth and in a classic battle.

President—This is no battle.

Bradley—If it isn't I'm a poor judge of trouble.

Marshall — They're bombing Pearl Harbor.

President — Snap out of it! That was ten years ago.

Marshall—I would want to check on that.

President—Let's get to the point. We have got to fire MacArthur, pipe and all.

Bradley—I hate to do this to Doug. He's a good general, TOO!

Acheson—MacArthur has been a very excellent general, in and out of season.

President—This is his OUT season!

Marshall—Would you repeat the question?

President (answering phone)—No, dont' send it here. (To staff) Somebody just sent me another piano. That's one more proof of the injustices around here. MacArthur gets headlines and I get pianos!

Acheson—I wonder if we could pin the piano situation on Douglas.

Marshall—They're both agrarians, or so it was said at the time and . . .

President — Time's awastin'. Let's make this fast. I move that MacArthur be given the heave-ho. So voted! Now let's rush out the notification to the general fast, in case the news gets out.

Bradley—Nobody knows about this but us. How could it get out?

President—Don't be naive!

The Real News Newsreel

Shudda Haddim says, "I would of had 'Bold' in the Preakness but I was too timid" . . . Yale Students must now clean their own rooms and make their own beds. No parent can now complain that the kid wasn't taught anything useful . . . Song of the American housewife trying to get some meat for dinner: "Bewitched, bothered, bewildered and Di-Sailed" . . . "Some people think there is still time to play politics"—President Truman. Drop that mirror! . . . Four-line verse for any housewife: "She reads the latest news on meats, Concerning costs and cuts; She won't be shopping for a while; The lady has gone nuts!" . . . There is a settlement of full-blooded Mohawk Indians in Brooklyn within 20 minutes of Times Square by subway. But they are nowhere near as savage as the white man, tomahawk and scalping knife in hand, trying to beat an old lady to a seat.

Since the President revealed he had been thinking of firing MacArthur for almost a year, palmists and tea-leaf readers are doing a big business in Washington official circles.

A Kansas City motorman of Harry Truman's younger days visited him at Blair House the other day, and the Republicans are saying that it was a discussion on what to do when the trolley flies off.

State Highway Department To Install Radio-Phone System

Station To Be Installed On Day St.

A high frequency radio-telephone communications system is being installed on a state-wide basis by Pennsylvania Department of Highways with fixed stations established in the Monroe county and other county maintenance superintendents' offices.

Arthur Dinstel, maintenance superintendent in Monroe county, said the 150-watt system fixed station will be installed in the existing highway office building, Day St., East Stroudsburg, until the new highway building is completed along Route 611, near Wigwam Park.

By a system of relays it will be possible for any of these stations to reach any other in the State.

Mobile units will be installed in the equipment operated by each county superintendent, assistant county superintendent and garage foreman. In addition, mobile transmitters and receivers have been installed in automobiles of the district engineer and district mechanic in each of the 11 districts into which the State is divided.

Standard operating procedure has been established, a phonetic alphabet set up, codes arranged to assure accurate and rapid transmission of messages.

Thus the men throughout the State who are charged with the maintenance of highways — clear them of snow and ice, cope with slides and floods, and establish emergency traffic routings—will be able to summon help from adjoining counties, their district headquarters or central headquarters in Harrisburg in the event of a major disaster.

The system will also permit swift communications of equipment within the county maintenance units.

Initial installation here is also expected to include at least one truck with probable expansion to other truck equipment.

The network is under the immediate direction of N. A. Staples, chief engineer in charge of maintenance with headquarters in Harrisburg. The equipment has been leased from the Bell Telephone Co. and Raymond Rosen Co.

Highway officials expect the equipment will be used only for emergency communications during snow and ice storms, floods or other disasters.

Principal use, on the basis of experience during the experimental stage, will be probably for the transfer of snow plow equipment to points of greatest need.

The entire network, which operates on a frequency modulated wave of 47.30 under general call letters KGB with numerals added to designate the different stations, will be on 24-hour daily year-round duty.

THE SMILES DON'T MATCH the mournful solitude of these white tombstones, but then these seniors will graduate from Chestnuthill Township High school just once. They're pictured here making a little whoopee during class night. The cemetery scene was to help seniors telescope themselves 100 years into the future so they could look back on their school days of 1951. From left to right are William Buskirk, Leah Dorshimer, Glendora Brong, Edward Lockhart, Clarence McNeal, June Stout, Mary Frable, Gladys Howell, Walter Serfass.

Nine Seniors Graduate At Chestnuthill

Brodheadsville — Approximately 400 persons last night braved a steady downpour to attend Chestnuthill Township High school's 34th annual commencement exercises.

Those receiving diplomas from Ervin Kreger, vice president of the board of education, were Leah M. Dorshimer, class president; Glendora M. Brong, vice president; Mary E. Frable, secretary; Gladys R. Howell, treasurer.

Other graduates are William J. Buskirk, Edward C. Lockhart, Clarence J. McNeal, Walter A. Serfass and June A. Stout.

Commencement speaker was Dr. LeRoy J. Koehler who advocated a new type of world control and an extension of the United Nations principle.

Gladys Howell, salutatorian discussed "Our World Today."

Walter H. Sebring, assistant county superintendent of schools, congratulated graduates on behalf of the county office. Seniors were presented for graduation by Supervising Principal John G. Mills.

Other student speakers were Mary Frable, Glendora Brong, June Stout.

Miss Frable's topic was "To Live in Human Dignity. Miss Brong discussed "Toward World Unity" and Miss Stout "Peace With Freedom."

The valedictory award was presented by Rev. Clyde Levergood, member of the West End Lions club. Rev. Levergood also delivered the invocation and benediction.

Two Organizations Draft Details For Outing Of Junior Sportsmen's Group

Meeting last night at the Indian Queen hotel, the Monroe County Sportsmen's association arranged for the annual outing of the Junior Sportsmen's organization, which will be featured at Snow Hill on Sunday afternoon. Members of the Stroudsburg Lions club, cooperating in the event, sat in on the deliberations.

The two organizations will take the boys to the Snow Hill State forest reserve, where a pioneer picnic will be held. Refreshments provided by the clubs will include hot dogs, rolls, soft drinks and ice cream. Members of the sports men's association will provide charcoal stoves for roasting the dogs.

All boys of this area who are 16 cream. Members of the sportsmen and all are invited to register by Saturday at any of the following places: Tom DeVivo's shoe shop, Main St.; MacNichols' Sport store, Sixth St.; Nauman's Sports Goods store, McConnell's Taxi office, or Cincotta's market, East Stroudsburg or the YMCA. Registration is needed to guide the committee in their plans, but non-registration will not bar any boy from participating.

Fishing will be a feature of the day and the two clubs will provide valuable first prizes, while members of the sportsmen's group will donate many more.

The start will be made from the YMCA in Stroudsburg and the Lackawanna station in East Stroudsburg at 12:30, cars for transportation being provided by members of the two clubs.

Each boy is required to bring his fishing rod and bait.

Return will be about 7 p. m. Sunday.

Two Killed, Two Injured At Portland

troopers from the Bethlehem barracks moved in to take over the investigation, the fatality having occurred in Northampton county.

Chief Felker, who continued his work on the case, was able to talk with Prior, the driver.

Felker said Prior told him the party was returning to New Jersey when he noticed that the steering apparatus had become loose. He said he was experiencing some difficulty in steering as he approached the bridge.

When they were near the bridge sign, however, the car suddenly swung toward the center of the highway, then lurched back to the right. Out of control, it then smashed into the tree and swung off into the deep ditch.

Salem Church To Observe Anniversary

Gilbert—Salem Evangelical and Reformed church here is planning to observe the first anniversary of the ground-breaking for a new church building on Sunday, June 10 at 3 p. m. E. H. Wyckoff, promiennt Stroudsburg citizen and outstanding churchman, will be one of the speakers.

The multi-colored native stone walls of the building are rising steadily and are well up around the windows and doors. The builder, Allen Davidson is confident that under normal working conditions the roof will be on the structure by fall.

Hundreds of visitors have already come to see the beautiful colonial church building now under construction. Many more are anticipated on Sunday, June 10 at 3 p. m. when a period will be set aside for the inspection of the building under the direction of the building committee, consisting of Alvin Dreisbach, Gordon Souders, Elmer Kreger, Earl Murphy, and Walter Anglemyer.

The building fund likewise has been growing steadily. Recent large gifts have swelled the total of cash and pledges in the fund to approximately $32,000. A cash gift of $3,000 from Mr. and Mrs. Charles Christman of Pittsburgh, and the $2,000 gift from the East Pennsylvania Synod of the Evangelical and Reformed church have spurted the totals to this present mark. Mr. Christman is a former resident of the West End.

County Infantile Paralysis Foundation Pays Hospital $4,300 For Treating Miss Hendricks

A check for $4,300 was issued this week by Monroe County chapter, National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, to St. Luke's hospital, Bethlehem, covering payment for treatments which not only saved the life of Miss Mary Hendricks, Stroudsburg, but has started her on the long, slow and painful road to rehabilitation.

Miss Hendricks, whose great courage has been a tremendous contribution toward efforts to save her life and rehabilitate her, was a victim of bulbar infantile paralysis, one of the most serious forms of polio.

A patient in the hospital since mid-1949, Miss Hendricks has now reached the stage where she requires special treatment.

Next Tuesday, a delegation from Stroudsburg Aerie, No. 1106, Fraternal Order of Eagles, originators of a wheel-chair and rehabilitation fund for Miss Hendricks, will go to the hospital to present a special wheelchair to Miss Hendricks.

Balance of the monies collected in the wheel-chair fund drive will be turned over to the local chapter to help pay expenses connected with further treatments for Miss Hendricks.

Local chapter members and officials have decided they will meet the needs for further treatment and send Miss Hendricks to the famous National foundation special treatment and rehabilitation center at Warm Springs, Ga., early in June.

It is estimated that cost of this required treatment will run around $15 a day. The local chapter, however, expects some aid from National foundation which is also financed by March of Dimes contributions.

Walter Schlough is president of the local chapter. Mrs. Roger Dunning is secretary and Gerald M. Anderson, treasurer, J. A. Groner is campaign chairman, Harry B. Howell, East Stroudsburg, chapter member and Robert Jones, State representative here to confer on the Hendricks case, met with the group.

There are about 300 million cubic miles of water in the seas, it is estimated.

The diameter of the earth through the poles is about 7,900 miles.

Joint Ownership Is Not A Substitute For A Will!

The Joint Ownership of bank accounts is a widely used and generally accepted arrangement for the Joint Ownership of all their property by a husband and wife. They put everything in joint names—stocks, bonds, real estate, automobile, etc. In the absence of a WILL such an arrangement CAN bring about some very unhappy results.

Take the case of "Mr. and Mrs. John Doe, Either or Survivor." Mr. Doe and their only child were killed instantly in an automobile accident. Mrs. Doe died on the way to the hospital. For 30 minutes Mrs. Doe was the SURVIVOR and sole owner of all their jointly owned property. When she died on the way to the hospital the widow Doe's estate went to her heirs-at-law: two brothers each got half. Mr. Doe's sisters and a brother got nothing.

If Mr. Doe had made a WILL, he could have provided for the disposition of the property under such circumstances and avoided such an unjust distribution of it. THERE IS NO SUBSTITUTE FOR A WILL. BOTH HUSBAND AND WIFE SHOULD HAVE ONE.

Let us help you plan the financial aspects of your estate and then have your Attorney draw a properly written WILL for you.

V.F.W. Poppy Days - Friday and Saturday, May 25th and 26th

BUDDY POPPIES SYMBOL OF A NATION'S DEVOTION

Emblem of the dead and dying on the fields of Flanders in 1918, the V.F.W. Buddy Poppy has been glorified by the American people as their "Flower of Remembrance."

Down through the years, ever since 1922 to be exact, the V.F.W. Buddy Poppy has given to all patriotic citizens—rich and poor alike—their chance to honor the dead by helping the living.

The annual sale of Buddy Poppies serves two great purposes. It fosters the beautiful custom of wearing these little flowers, once each year, in mute salute to the memory of America's honored dead; it provides the funds that are required to serve the daily personal needs of the nation's disabled and needy veterans, and their dependents.

There are millions of unfortunate veterans—as well as widows and orphans and dependent parents—who are unable to qualify for government aid.

Why? Mainly because the government itself—in time of war—has never been able to maintain accurate records on the physical welfare of each individual in uniform.

Through no fault of their own, these veterans—many of them the victims of the lingering effects of exposure, shock and malnutrition—are unable to qualify for help from their government because their service records fail to confirm the origin of their ailments.

Your support of the annual sale of Buddy Poppies makes it possible for the Veterans of Foreign Wars to maintain its great, nationwide program of free rehabilitation service to the millions of needy veterans.

Every dime or dollar which you may give in exchange for a Buddy Poppy goes into a special sacred fund—one that will be spent for nothing but the relief and rehabilitation of America's disabled veterans, and their needy loved ones.

Remember the dead who are buried near the battlefields where they died, or in our cemeteries here at home. Let's do them honor by helping the living!

For the aid, relief and comfort of disabled and needy veterans, their dependents, or their widows and orphans.

For rehabilitation, welfare and service work, including liaison service with the Veterans Administration.

For maintenance or expansion of the V.F.W. National Home for widows and orphans of veterans at Eaton Rapids, Mich.

For acquisition, improvement and maintenance of burial plots and the decoration of graves of veterans and servicemen.

For necessary expenses for military funerals of deceased veterans.

Just Between Us

—By Bobby Westbrook

The tumult and the shouting of the Lions state convention dies, and that's not a soprano echo you hear from Pocono Manor today —that's the state convention of the League of Women Voters discussing their programs for the next two years.

You know, when you're involved in one of these conventions, they practically constitute your whole world, but to the public at large it merely means that the merchants take down "Welcome Knights of Malta" for "Welcome Lions,' and pretty soon it will be "Welcome Exchangites."

The weary mothers, up to their ears in plans for class night dresses, graduation presents, that class oration and having those white ballet slippers dyed, barely notice as they go desperately shopping from store to store.

The Junior High grads aren't much better, particularly in the consolidated schools where the fateful "Penn-Co" tests have arrived dripping with seals that can't be opened until Friday.

The clubwomen, having a chance to take off their girdles and best shoes for the first time in weeks, are busy deciding just how much of that delayed spring cleaning they can let go until fall.

And the politicians busy with their placards and visiting cards and campaigning haven't an ear to spare. However, we could maybe mutter a little "Welcome, Women Voters," which they certainly are.

Pocono Legion Auxiliary Adopts Three Projects

Mount Pocono — Mrs. Emma Merwin served as hostess recently for the regular monthly meeting of the Auxiliary of Pocono's Memorial Post 903 of the American legion which was held at the Merwin home on Sterling Rd.

Mrs. Eva Taylor presided during the business session when plans were made for a bake sale to be held on June 30. Emma Merwin, Estelle Sutton, Anna Sables, Mayme Cruse and Yvonne Regan were named as the committee for the bake sale.

Reports were given by Helen Platt on the recent card party held at Pocono Haven and by Mrs. Taylor and Mrs. Cruse on their attendance at the 4-county council held at Wind Gap.

Among the service projects the auxiliary voted to assume included; the sending of gifts to girls at Oteen Hospital; making of children's clothes to be sent to the child welfare committee at headquarters; and the sending of candy, cards and cookies to Fritz Kraft, a former local young man who is a patient at the Valley Forge Veteran's Hospital.

Miss Esther Foley was appointed as chairman of the poppy sales which takes place annually.

As a community service, the auxiliary will be in charge of appropriately decorating the Veteran's Memorial on the school grounds for Memorial Day.

Refreshments were served by the hostess, following the meeting.

Ex-Prohibition Candidate Is Speaker Here

Claude A. Watson, attorney-at-law, past president of the Highland Park, Los Angeles, Cal., Kiwanis club, was guest speaker at the meeting of the Stroudsburg club at the Penn-Stroud hotel yesterday afternoon.

Rev. Francis C. Thomas, program chairman, also gave the invocation. Dale H. Learn presented the speaker.

Mr. Watson was the Prohibition party candidate for vice president in 1936 and the presidential candidate in 1944 and 1948. He is a licensed minister in the Free Methodist church. His son is president of the Los Angeles club this year.

His talk on the subject, "Crackpots", was interspersed with much humor and a down-to-earth philosophy based on faith in God and choosing righteous men for public offices.

William H. Clark reported team No. 10 was adjudged winner of the 100 per cent April attendance contest and would be served a free meal at the expense of one of losing teams.

Regrets were expressed at the transfer of Rev. Thomas to West Chester. The clergyman told of his appreciation of the genuine fellowship he had enjoyed as a member of the local club.

Alan W. Keiper reported that 25 subscribers had been secured for the electric map project with numerous prospects to be contacted. The map will be fastened to the Seventh St. side of the Stroudsburg Security Trust Co., building and it is hoped to have it fully installed by June 15.

By pushing an electric button the route is traced immediately on the map to the point the person operating the mechanism desires. These maps are in operation across the country and some local people have had personal experiences with them and tell how well they work.

Next week's meeting date falls on Memorial day and in consequence the session will be held at the usual time, but on Tuesday, May 29.

Curtis To Be Honored At Banquet Tonight

Navy Coach To Speak At VFW Post

T. Manning "Cap" Curtis, outstanding coach at Stroudsburg High school for the past 21 years, will be honored by past and present athletes alike tonight during a testimonial dinner at the Veterans of Foreign Wars home, beginning at 6:30. Curtis, who has devoted virtually all his time to basketball in recent years, will remain as athletic director at the W. Main St. school.

An outstanding program has been arranged for the affair which is expected to attract some 150 guests, including 36 lettermen at Stroudsburg High.

Ben Carnevale, outstanding basketball coach at the United States Naval Academy, will be the featured speaker at tonight's affair, while Frank P. Maguire, commissioner of PIAA officials, will serve as toastmaster.

Alfred W. Munson, principal of Stroudsburg High, announced last night that a complete setup had been made for tonight's affair.

The National Anthem will open the affair and the invocation will be delivered by Earl H. Groner, superintendent of Stroudsburg schools. The inauguration of the Varsity "S" club will follow and this portion of the program will be handled by Munson. Tom Shiffer, chairman of the nominating committee, will present nominations for officers in the newly formed group.

Featured Speech

Carnevale, the guest speaker, will then be introduced by Marty Baldwin, outstanding local sportsman.

Groner will deliver the testimonial speech to Curtis and the program will end with the awarding of letters to the 36 lettermen present at the affair.

Curtis resigned following the 1950-51 season and brought to close a long and honored career of coaching, which included football and baseball as well as basketball. Curtis has served at Stroudsburg High since 1925, with the exception of two brief periods, one of which was during World War II when the retiring coach served as a Red Cross Field Director in Persia.

Proclamation

Whereas, T. Manning Curtis is completing twenty-one years of coaching athletics at Stroudsburg High school, and

Whereas, "Cap" Curtis is retiring from coaching duties at Stroudsburg High school, and

Whereas, "Cap" Curtis has devoted his untiring efforts to the development of our youth.

Now therefore I, the chief burgess of Stroudsburg, do declare that Thursday, May 24, be observed as "Cap" Curtis Day in the borough of Stroudsburg and that all the citizens show to "Cap" the honor he so richly deserves.

Done in the borough of Stroudsburg this twenty-fourth day of May, year of Our Lord nineteen hundred fifty-one.

HAL H. HARRIS,
Chief Burgess.

Henry Flattens Davidson In 8th

Detroit (AP)—Clarence Henry battered down the big-time hopes of huge Embrel Davidson last night. Henry knocked out Davidson in 50 seconds of the eighth round of their scheduled 10-round heavyweight fight.

Henry smashed the promising young Detroit fighter to the canvas twice in the eighth round and then belted him out of the ring in an unconscious state.

Traded Punches

Davidson, an understudy of former heavyweight champion Joe Louis, traded punches with Henry for four rounds before the greater experience of the Los Angeles youth began to tell.

Reds Pound Konstanty To Nip Phils Despite Sisler's Homer

Cincinnati, (AP)—Cincinnati hopped all over Jim Konstanty in the tenth inning yesterday to defeat Philadelphia, 4 to 3.

Philadelphia held a two-run lead going into the sixth, when Cincinnati tied it up.

Dick Sisler, hitting safely in his thirteenth consecutive game, rifled the ball over the left field fence in the tenth with two out to put his club in front again.

Relief

Bobby Adams, batting for Ramsdell, singled to start the Reds' half of the tenth. Hatton sacrificed, but Adams was out at second. Then Connie Ryan singled, and Johnny Wyrostek followed with a one-baser, scoring Hatton. Robin Roberts replaced Konstanty. Joe Adcock was an easy out, but Ted Kluszewski drove Ryan home on a safety to center to win the game.

Resort Play Banned By Group

New York— (AP) —All outside basketball competition, including resort play, has been banned by the Eastern College Athletic Conference. The E. C. A. C. is made up of 91 major and minor colleges.

The measure is aimed primarily to resort ball. Several college officials have charged that summer resorts were the spawning grounds for the recent series of basketball fix cases. These officials claimed that would-be fixers were able to contact and tempt players by building up friendship at the various hotels.

Replies

Resorts officials replied that the charges were unjust, asserting that players could be contacted just as easily elsewhere.

Asa Bushnell, commissioner of the E. C. A. C., announced the ban yesterday. Bushnell said the schools had approved the measure in a mail ballot with more than the necessary two-thirds voting in favor of the ban.

Local Legion Club To Hold First Practice

George N. Kemp, American Legion Post junior baseball team will hold its initial practice of the season today at the East Stroudsburg Playground, it was announced last night by Tom Carmella, athletic officer at the local American Legion post. The drill session is slated to begin at 5 p.m.

Any boy in Monroe County who hadn't reached his eighteenth birthday before January 1, 1950, is eligible to play on the club this year, Carmella pointed out.

Welcome

Boys from Stroudsburg, East Stroudsburg, Chestnuthill, Polk, Tobyhanna Township, Pocono, Coolbaugh and Barrett are especially invited to battle for a position on the club.

Carmella also announced that Tom Sommers, veteran Pocono Mountain League campaigner, will manage the local American Legion club this year.

Boys making the American Legion club will have an opportunity to be scouted by major league ivory hunters and each will have a chance to play in the annual all-star games held each year at the end of the legion season.

Rain Stops Yankees

Umpire-in-chief Art Passarella made a determined attempt to beat the weatherman but had to concede after twice calling time.

Grid Coach Rehired

Connellsville, Pa. (AP)— Scottdale High school board directors yesterday rehired Ray Ronco as football coach. They had dismissed Ronco two months ago.

Cards Use Break To Down Braves

St. Louis (AP) — Outfielder Sam Jethroe of Boston lost a costly fly in the sun and the St. Louis Cardinals took it from there to score a 6-5 victory over the Braves.

The Red Bird break came in the fourth inning, with St. Louis trailing 3-0. There were two out and runners on first and third when Nippy Jones lifted and easy fly to center.

Jethroe had his hands up as if he were ready for a routine catch. But he lost the ball and it struck him in the stomach and dropped to the ground.

Double

The play was ruled a double under the circumstances and it gave St. Louis two runs. Then Joe Garagiola doubled Jones home and Bill Johnson singled Garagiola across, giving the Cardinals a 4-3 lead.

Boston had scored three times in the second against starter Howard Pollet on successive doubles by Bob Elliott, Walker Cooper and Sid Gordon, along with long flies by Luis Olmo and Buddy Kerr.

The Braves were ready for more runs in the third when Roy Hartsfield walked and Earl Torgeson doubled him to third base with one out. In that crisis, however, Tom Poholsky relieved Pollet and smothered the threat.

Young Poholsky, in his first relief job of the season, blanked the Braves until the ninth, when they scored two runs.

Dodger Hits Overpower Bucs

Pittsburgh (AP)—Gil Hodges hit his fourteenth home run of the season to lead the Brooklyn Dodgers in a 15-hit attack which swamped the Pittsburgh Pirates 11 to 4 last night at Forbes field.

Hodges' circuit blow in the first inning with two aboard gave pitcher Don Newcombe a three-run bulge and enabled him to coast the rest of the way for his fourth victory against two losses.

Westlake's Turn

Giants Edge Cubs On Circuit Blow

Chicago (AP) — Outhit almost three to one, the New York Giants needed only one of their four hits—a home run by Monte Irvin—to defeat the Chicago Cubs yesterday, 2-1.

Irvin's homer, his third of the season, followed on the heels of a walk to Wes Westrum in the fourth inning and gave the Giants their third victory over the Cubs in as many meetings this season. The Cubs were the Giants' favorite fall guys last year, bowing 17 times in 22 clashes with Leo Durocher's dandies.

Loser

The Giants made only three other hits—all singles—off loser Paul Minner while Sal Maglie surrendered ten safeties to the Cubs. The swarthy righthander, however, bore down in the pinches, stranding nine runners, to gain his sixth victory. All have come in succession following two losses.

Video May Help Rose Bowl Game

Evanston, Ill.—(AP)—A potential $200,000 sale of 1952 Rose Bowl television rights may give new hope for continuing the Big Ten-Pacific Coast Conference football marriage.

With such a melon to slice up, at least officials of both conferences will think twice before settling for divorce.

Vote

The big ten today votes on whether to renew the Rose Bowl pact for another three years after a rather shaky five-year trial of keeping the big New Year's Day classic a family affair.

Big ten athletic directors and faculty representatives gathering for the showdown ballot are split in their views. But hovering over the meetings is the prospect of a coast-to-coast video hook-up by next Rose Bowl time which could swell the revenue as much as $200,000 or more with a sponsored live telecast of the granddad of bowl games.

Rain Halts Contests

All action in the Monroe County Softball league was postponed last night because of rain. No dates were announced on which the games will be played.

Red Sox Blank Brownies, 12-0

Boston, (AP)—Lefty Mel Parnell had a perfect day at bat, three singles and a double, while pitching the Boston Red Sox to a 12-0 shutout over the lowly St. Louis Browns yesterday with a four-hit performance.

During the slaughter of the American league cellarites, whose sixth straight loss was held up for 50 minutes by rain, Red Socker Vern Stephens equalled Luke Appling's three-year-old American league third base fielding record by totaling ten assists.

Freak Play

Johnny Pesky set up the tenth such play by fielding Ken Wood's hard-hit grounder and tossing to Stephens, who rifled the ball to first Baseman Walt Dropo for the final putout.

Life of Riley

By JIM RILEY
Sports Editor

Little League baseball holds its grand opening in Stroudsburg on Monday, at which time there will be a parade from court house square to Stroudsburg Playground, where the circuit will play all its games this season. All the 73 players taking part in the circuit will march in the parade, as will many members of the Rotary club. If possible, at least one band will take part in the program and Mayor Hal Harris will toss out the first ball.

Bleachers will be moved from Giffels field to the playground field on Saturday, to provide seating for those who will be on hand to watch the youngsters in action during the coming summer months. However, I hope the moving of the bleachers won't seriously interfere with seating of fans at the home games of Pocono A. C. In the two games played at home this year the local Blue Mountain league entry has played before nearly 400 people each time, and most of them have sat in the bleachers. The drawing power of the newly formed club was underestimated by virtually everyone at the beginning of the present season.

Pocono Lake is causing plenty of concern in the Pocono Mountain league. The circuit has played only two games this season and Pocono Lake hasn't fielded nine men in either game. The first tussle between Reeders and Pocono Lake, on the Tobyhanna Township High school field, found the home club showing up with only five players. Reeders loaned Pocono Lake four players and the defending title holder went on to win easily. Last week Pocono Lake showed up for a game at Saylorsburg with only six players and was forced to forfeit the contest to the Saylorsburg club.

The league became even more concerned last Monday, when Pocono Lake failed to have a representative on hand at the circuit's regular monthly meeting at the Bartonsville hotel. The eyes of all Pocono Mountain league fans will be on Pocono Lake this Sunday, when that club plays host to West End A. C. If the organization fails to field a complete team this time, it might mean that the circuit will operate the remainder of the distance with nine clubs, an occurrence which will do anything but help the circuit at this early date.

George Ruth, president of the Blue Mountain league, is a patient at the Monroe County General hospital at the present time and this column wishes him a speedy recovery. The Bangor resident is in Room 22 of the old section of the hospital and would like very much to hear from his many friends and will welcome visitors. Joe Martocci, manager of the Martocci-Capobianco American Legion Post baseball team, of Roseto, was a spectator at Tuesday's baseball game between East Stroudsburg and Fountain Hill High schools, at the East Stroudsburg playground.

The talk of the local baseball gentry yesterday was the manner in which Ray Steele pitched during the past season. Steele's record of 96 strikeouts, 28 walks and 14 base hits in 54 innings is almost unbelievable. Ray finished the campaign with 17 strikeouts and one walk against Fountain Hill. Although the lanky right hander must have several rough edges smoothed off, he seems destined to go places in this great game of baseball.

While Steele was the center of several baseball conversations, the fact that the East Stroudsburg-Stroudsburg contest won't be played this year also came in for its share of discussion. The man in the street is plenty burned up over the fact that the long awaited pitching duel between Steele and Alden "Red" Fetherman isn't to be staged this year. However, the fans hope that the rival schools can get together on a baseball date prior to the opening of the season next year, so the duel will be held before the two outstanding right handers graduate.

Pocono A. C. Meets Portland

Schoonover Uncertain About Hurlers

Pocono A.C. will atempt to launch a new winning streak tonight, when Manager John Schoonover and company take on the Portland Apollos, on the latter's home field, in a Blue Mountain league contest. The game will get underway at 6:15.

Roseto broke a three-game Pocono A. C. winning streak last Sunday, but Schoonover is hopeful of bringing home the bacon tonight, as the Monroe County contingent attempts to recapture first place.

Schoonover was undecided about his pitching assignment for tonight, but he did say that it would be either Clint Besecker or Russell "Lindy" Transue, two veteran right handers.

John Drew will handle the catching, while the infield will line up with Danny Eppley at first base; Dewey Martling, second base; Jim Werkheiser, shortstop and Dick Miller, third base. If Besecker doesn't pitch, either he or Al Bachman will be in left field, while Don Sweda operates in center and Dick Schaller in right.

Portland, currently sporting a record of two wins and the same number of setbacks will be out to stop a streak that has found the Apollos losing their last two outings. However, George Kays will undoubtedly be on the hill for the Apollos tonight. The right hander will be entrusted with the task of halting Portland's slide.

Two more games are on the agenda for the Blue Mountain League and one will have a direct bearing on first place, as West Bangor plays host to Roseto, at Bangor's Memorial Park. This game will also begin at 6:15. Roseto is currently holding down the number one spot with three wins and no defeats, while West Bangor is in a three-way deadlock for second place, with three victories and a single setback.

The final game, also at 6:15, on tonight's agenda, will send Johnsonville against Tatamy, on the latter's home field. Neither team has won a game this season, but one is certain to break into the win column this time.

Turnesa Upset In British Amateur Tournament

Porthcawl, Wales — (AP) — Six American Walker Cup players swept into the fourth round of the British Amateur Golf Championship yesterday, but they lost captain Willie Turnesa.

Still going strong were Bill Campbell, Sam Urzetta, Jim McHale, Charlie Coe, Dick Chapman and Frank Stranahan, the defending champion.

Bo Wininger, a newcomer to big time golf from Pleasantville, N. J., completed the American contingent in the round of 32.

Stranahan won four and two over his fellow Walker Cupper Bob Knowles, who frittered away a nine-hole two-up lead by leaving three four-foot putts hanging on the rims of the cups on the back nine.

Urzetta, the American champion, kept alive his chances of winning both titles in one year with a businesslike five and four decision over John Mill of Glasgow.

Perfection

Campbell had his wedge and putter working to perfection as he disposed of Lionel Brown, of England, five and four.

McHale eliminated the last South American hope, Luis Alberto De Herrera of Buenos Aires, four and two.

Coe defeated Irishman W. A. Kirkpatrick three and two though he never led until the thirteenth hole, and Chapman, twice finalist but never a winner in this tournament, breezed home six and five over Richard Cottingham of London.

Wininger, who grabbed the attention of the gallery with a brilliant round Tuesday, defeated Harry McAnespie Jr., of Scotland, a former British boy champion, three and one in a ragged match.

Four other lesser known American entries lost, all by wide margins. Harreld Kirkpatrick of Owensboro, Ky., was beaten six and five by W. A. Slark of London, while his fellow townsman, Dr. Nicholas Nicholas, bowed to Joe Carr, Britain's brightest title threat, four and three.

Ed Lowery of San Francisco succumbed to England's Harley Roberts, four and three, and Major W. D. Henderson of New York, who got to the fourth round of the British championship a year ago, lost by the same margin to D. S. Maunsell of England.

Chestnuthill To Clash With Barrett

Brodheadsville — Otto "Junior" Mills, president of the Monroe County league, announced last night that the title baseball game between Barrett and Chesnuthill will take place tomorrow, at Tannersville, on the Pocono High school diamond. The game is scheduled to get underway at 2:30 p. m.

Chestnuthill, coached by Mills, won the southern division crown on Tuesday, with a 7-6 decision over Polk, in a special playoff contest. Chestnuthill finished the campaign with four wins and one loss, while Polk won three and lost two.

Rival

Barrett on the other hand ran up three straight victories before bowing to Coolbaugh in the final game of the season. Barrett is coached by Joe Murray.

Warren Gursky will umpire behind the plate tomorrow, while Harry Werkheiser calls the plays on the bases.

Washed Off Books

Stockertown — East Bangor's Blue Mountain league baseball contest with Stockertown here last night was washed off the books by rain. No new date was announced for the contest last night.

Dinner-Dance Closes State Lions' Session

Toastmaster Edgar R. Etter, district governor of 14-G, paid tribute to Convention Chairman Harry J. Drennan and his fellow workers of the host clubs' convention committee. He also touched on the exceptional attractions of the Pocono area as a convention site. He said that, in the beginning the State Council members, when they learned of the selection of the Poconos for the convention, were apprehensive lest hotel accommodations might prove inadequate.

They sent a committee here to meet with the host group and a tour of the area showed mighty and beautiful hotels, so many in number and so spaced apart, that "one grew tired going from one great hostelry to the next". He said that each and every conventioneer was enchanted by the beauty and the accommodations of this area.

He presented Montie Nute of Kennett Square, Pennsylvania's candidate for third international vice president, who is expected to be elected to that position at Atlantic City.

The new district governors, elected during the day's business session were introduced. Elton P. Hall, representing district 14-K, received a prolonged ovation.

The toastmaster called on International Directors Earl D. Baumann and Herbert R. Hargrave who gave the main address. His home is in Fresno, Calif., and he is active in the California-Nevada jurisdiction, to which the Hawaiian Island clubs were connected. He told his hearers of some of the odd and striking features of the island administration.

Here is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your keynumber. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.
